CAN'T BEAT THE PRICE

Margie Williams, owner of a barber shop in Lafayette, Ind., hasn't exactly been besieged by long-haired youths since she put up a sign last week offering free haircuts to protesters with shoulder-length hair. Still, she has had a few takers. The offer is her way of protesting campus demonstrations such as one in Lafayette recently. (UPI Telephoto)

Laird Vows Cambodia Schedule To Be Met

Seeking Jobs For Veterans

COMBINED AP & UPI

DETROIT — Defense Secretary Melvin Laird pledged today the timetable set up by President Richard M. Nixon when he sent U.S. troops into Cambodia will be met and Americans "will not become bogged down in Cambodia."

Weather conditions have a large bearing on the effectiveness of the operation to destroy the sanctuaries of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and the job will be completed before the rainy season begins, he said.

"What has already been found and destroyed in the way of supplies used by the enemy go beyond all our expectations," Laird said in a news conference prior to a speech before the Economic Club of Detroit.

SHORTEN WAR

"This action will shorten the war, it will bring our troops home faster; it will reduce our casualties," he said.

Laird said the effectiveness of the operation should not be judged on the basis of day-to-day tactics, but on the over all effect it will have on the Vietnamization process. The effects will show up in the months to come in further troop withdrawals from South Vietnam, he said.

"It's important to realize that the next six months are the most important period in the Vietnamization program," Laird said. "The sanctuary movement's emphasis was to destroy the facilities of the enemy, not people."

FULL DISCUSSION

Laird, questioned about reported opposition within the Nixon cabinet to the President's Cambodian decision, said there had been a "full and open discussion within the National Security Council and all members support the President."

On another subject, Laird said he would be opposed to the Ford Motor Co. submitting plans to help the Soviet Union develop truck-producing facilities because Russia is currently sending military vehicles to North Vietnam.

Laird also said the Pentagon will soon launch a new program "to locate a job for every veteran."

Laird said the Defense Department needs help from all sectors of the country in finding what he called worthwhile jobs for many of the two million men and women who will be leaving the armed services in the next two years.

WITHDRAWAL ORDER IS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield predicted today the senate would approve legislation to order a withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia. Republican Leader Hugh Scott disagreed, saying antiwar forces did not have the votes.

In separate statements to reporters, the Senate leaders clashed on the prospects of an amendment to hold the Nixon administration to its pledge to pull out U.S. troops from Cambodia by July 1.

Mansfield said the outlook for approval was "good" but Scott said contended it would draw support of only about 30 senators.

Vietnamese River Flotilla Arrives

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—An armada of South Vietnamese river boats arrived in this Cambodian capital today on the Mekong River under the protective cover of Cambodian air force Soviet-built MIGs and watched by thousands of curious but silent Cambodians.

The small flotilla, with American advisers, was led by an American-built Tank Landing Ship (LST) that was closely followed by five smaller Tank Landing Craft (LCT). There were no reports of opposition on the final 35 miles from Neak Luong, the Highway 1 river crossing captured Sunday from the Viet Cong.

The first vessel dropped anchor opposite Government House in downtown Phnom Penh at exactly 5 p.m. (6 a.m. EDT) but no one came ashore. The flotilla included two LSTs, at least three infantry landing ships (LSIS) and more than a dozen LCTs, all America built and of World War II vintage.

There was 110 vessels reported in the armada, 30 of them American, when it began moving up the Mekong River last week. The 30 American vessels remained at Neak Luong, observing the 21-mile limit set by President Nixon on American penetration of Cambodia.

A military spokesman in Saigon said four Americans had been killed aboard the U.S. fleet in the drive up the Mekong. However, the Vietnamese fleet commander, Capt. Nguyen Thanh Chau, said the flotilla had drawn no fire on the 45 mile trip through Cambodia. He indicated some of the vessels would proceed as far as Kopmong Chang, 10 miles farther upstream, with relief supplies.

TIE UP DOCKS

Three LSIs with gun turrets tied up at the main Phnom Penh dock in front of the port captain's office, behind a high fence which guaranteed whatever security needed. One of the vessels flew a Red Cross flag.

Military police cleared all civilians from the waterfront area and Cambodian authorities were taking every precaution to prevent any sabotage which might be contemplated by Viet Cong or Communist sympathizers in the city.

Heavy rain was falling as the flotilla arrived, hopefully heralding the early arrival of the monsoon season, which Cambodians believe will hamper Viet Cong operations and allow the Cambodians to retain control of the countryside.

It seemed as though Phnom Penh's entire population of 600,000 turned out to watch the parade of vessels moving up the ricer in Indian file, led by the newly painted LST Vung Tau, the flagship. The deck facing the city was lined with white hatted sailors.

AIR PATROL BOAT

The flotilla was preceded by a speedy river patrol boat which arrived a few minutes ahead of the first fleet units, made a U turn at the waterfront then returned downriver to the rest of the fleet.

The armada, bringing medical supplies and foodstuffs, will take back an estimated 6,000 Vietnamese being repatriated to South Vietnam.

Although the riverside was thronged with Cambodians, and there was excited talk, many were silent and only one youth applauded. Groups of monks mounted the steps of a nearby temple for a better look while a Cambodian patrol boat darted in and out among the visiting ships.

Politics, Labor Next Protesters' Targets

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Antiwar forces, who rallied up to 100,000 persons outside the White House to shout down the Indochina War, plan to pursue their battle on two new fronts: an attempt to spread the student strike to organized labor, and a concentrated campaign to elect peace candidates to Congress.

The protest, fueled by President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia and by the slaying of four students at Kent State University, disappeared from the streets of the nation's capital to return, its leaders said, to the hometowns of those who demonstrated.

From 50 to 100 of the protesters went to Capitol Hill Sunday for an open hearing held by 14 House members. The young people said they would go home to publicize the war views and votes of their representatives, and perhaps to take time off from classes before the November election to campaign for peace supporters.

Ron Young, a spokesman for the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, said the more immediate goal was to spread the strikes which have shut down an estimated 450 colleges and universities. He said they hope to turn the strike into a nationwide labor walkout, involving workers in factories and shops.

Nixon, who could hear the sounds of Saturday's demonstration coming across his back yard, called the nation's governors to a meeting today to discuss the problems of campus unrest. The meeting in addition was expected to cover a whole range of non-protest topics.

It appeared to observers to have been a weekend of anguish for the President. He looked tired Sunday, the result of not much sleep. Saturday morning he made a sunrise trip to the Lincoln Memorial to talk with surprised students who found him there.

He worked through the day Saturday, at times looking out at the crowd which turned the ellipse into something resembling a bathing beach populated by shirtless blue-jeaned young men, red bandannas on their foreheads, and girls dressed not differently who kept their shirts on.

Tourists in front of one of the Smithsonian buildings Sunday dangled their feet in a swirling fountain where crowds of demonstrators, some naked, had frolicked the day before when the protest ended up like a school picnic. Back on the long reflecting pool on the mall, the swans were no longer sharing their domain with hundreds of waders.

There were 346 arrests, not counting juveniles, mostly the result of a rock-throwing street spree which spread into some areas Saturday night. A bomb which exploded outside the National Guard Association headquarters broke 70 windows.

At the informal hearing in the Capitol Sunday, Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., said House doves need about 78 more allies before that chamber can pass meaningful antiwar legislation.

Attendance Drops Sharply At Colleges

Attendance dropped sharply today at College of Marin and Sonoma State College as students and faculty joined in promised strikes and class boycotts called on account of the U.S. invasion of Cambodia.

At College of Marin, more than a hundred students with picket signs and leaflets stood at entries to parking lots and campus buildings, but in general did not block entry.

At Sonoma, a group of 50 striking students picketed the main entrance asking others to boycott classes. Attendance in some classes was reported 25 per cent of normal, and some groups did not meet at all.

Neither college strike has administration sanction. College of Marin President John A. Grasham issued a statement Friday saying students failing to attend class will still have the responsibility of completing class work. In the proposed protest, Grasham wrote, he asked that coercion be discouraged and said that health and safety of faculty, staff and students is of prime importance.

At Sonoma State, President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. was to issue a statement this afternoon to the faculty on class attendance policy. Another statement was scheduled on resumption of fall registration, interrupted by demonstrators last week.

At Marin, academic Senate President Thomas Place estimated half the faculty was taking part in the strike as he was, meeting classes, giving assignments and discussing the war, then freeing students to work in the strike.

No one had an estimate of the strike's effectiveness, but it appeared more students were picketing or gathered in groups around the campus than were in class.

The student protest movement will drop to the high school level tomorrow, when classes at Redwood High School will be suspended for students and teachers to meet for a day-long teach-in on the Cambodian situation. The faculty voted 82 to 11 Friday for the student-sought convocation, Principal Donald Kreps said. Speakers will appear from the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley.

At Sir Francis Drake High School, an anti-Indochina war student group issued a press release today advocating a national general strike May 26 to stop the war. The group plans to circulate strike petitions through the county.

At College of Marin, Place said, one teacher had been barred from entering a building early in the day, before the picket lines were properly organized.

Throughout the morning, a small group of students sat and reclined against one door of the science building to bar entry, but other doors to the building were not blocked.

Another group of approximately 15 massed on the steps of Fusselman Library but yielded ground when people entered the building. Place said the the group was composed of members of Students for a Democratic Society, which had indicated last week it might seek confrontations in preventing class attendance.

Hundreds of students found their way to strike headquarters at the Newman Center just off campus, where workers passed out leaflets for distribution throughout the county, took orders for telegrams to Washington and got signatures for petitions and letters against the war.

At Sonoma State, leaders of the Student Strike Committee scheduled a convocation from 10 a.m. to noon tomorrow to determine how long the strike should go on.

College of Marin's strike is to continue through Wednesday.

Confirmation Of Blackmun Is Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With no opposition yet apparent, the Senate turned today to what will probably be a short debate on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Harry A. Blackmun.

Confirmation, perhaps unanimously, was expected Tuesday. Blackmun would be able to take his seat when the court reconvenes May 18 after its current two-week recess.

Liberals and conservatives have registered support, frequently enthusiastically, for Blackmun, 61, now a member of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Minnesotan is President Nixon's third choice for the Supreme Court vacancy created one year ago when Associate Justice Abe Fortas quit under criticism for off-the-bench financial activity.

The president's first choice, U.S. circuit court Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of South Carolina, was rejected by the Senate for alleged insensitivity to ethical considerations concerning his financial affairs.

U.S. Circuit Court Judge G. Harrold Carswell of Florida was turned down because a majority of the Senate either doubted he indeed had repudiated formerly admitted racist views or thought his legal talents mediocre.

Thousands Of Students Out On Strike; 450 Campuses Affected

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of college students were still on strike today and many campuses shut down for the duration of the school year in the aftermath of a week of tragedy and turmoil. Many other institutions officially reopened, however.

Still angry over fighting in Cambodia and the killing of four Kent State students in Ohio by National Guardsmen, students at many campuses continued to strike despite orders from college officials reopening classes.

At New York's City College, for example, classes were resumed but a college spokesman said that "there are a lot of students on campus, but not many are going to class."

Many, like the student body of the University of Maine, were voting today and tomorrow whether to continue boycotting classes or return to their studies.

The students' strike information center at Brandeis University today listed 450 schools on strike, and said it had confirmed that 157 schools will be struck indefinitely. A ham radio network of 150 stations was set up to keep track of campus activities across the nation. George Winne, 23-year-old son of a retired naval officer died early today from burns suffered when he set himself afire Sunday on the University of California campus in San Diego.

Winne was carrying a sign which read "For God's Sake, End the War."

Columbia University was holding classes, but New York University was closed indefinitely while faculties of each division held meetings to decide on future action.

Classes at 27 units of the Georgia State University system were reported back to normal, including those at the 13,000 Atlanta unit. At Emory University in Atlanta, student leaders were trying to extend a strike but class attendance appeared normal.

The Chicago campus of the University of Illinois and Northwestern University at Evanston remained closed until Wednesday, but other universities in Illinois resumed classes.

Main campuses of both the University of Cincinnati and Miami University in Ohio remained closed, with reopening indefinite, although some branch campuses resumed classes.

Students from Union Theological Seminary went to Grand Central Terminal this morning, and sang hymns and conducted services while they urged commuters to support the Hatfield-McGovern amendment to the military procurement bill, which would deny funds for Cambodian operations.

Farm, Food Prices Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices did not decline in April as indicated in a preliminary report, but the final figures issued today nevertheless cheered the administration: they failed to rise for the first time in 18 months.

Only farm and food prices declined in the wholesale index, however.

Industrial raw materials rose three-tenths of one per cent, but this too was a hopeful indicator, because it represented a 3.6 per cent annual rise instead of the 4 per cent rate of increase at the start of the year.

The index stood at 116.6 per cent of the 1957-59 average in April. That compared with 111.9 per cent a year earlier.

This meant that it cost $116.60 in March and April, on the average, to buy the same assortment of wholesale goods which would have cost $100 in 1957-59.

For all commodities represented in the index, the price average was 4.2 per cent above a year ago, down from a 4.8 per cent rate of annual rise in January.

An even better showing had been hoped for when the tentative index figures were released on April 29. They showed a decline of one-tenth of one per cent in the wholesale index, the first drop in 20 months.

However, the final figures showed that farm products, despite a 2.4 per cent dip in the month, did not decline quite as far as had been estimated in the earlier report.

The farm and food sector of the wholesale index is less valuable than the industrial commodities sector because it is more susceptible to wide fluctuations owing to market conditions and weather.

The increase in industrial raw materials was broad; there were increases for almost all the commodities except rubber and plastic products, textiles and apparel, and transportation equipment.

Crash Kills Reuther, Five Others

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers, who go to the bargaining table in mid-July to hammer out new contracts with the automotive giants, have lost their leader of 24 years, Walter P. Reuther, killed with five others in a plane crash.

Under Reuther, a giant in the American labor movement, the UAW had grown to 1.6 million members, the nation's largest industrial union.

Reuther had been the UAW's president since 1946 and was a vice president of the AFL-CIO until he broke his union away two years ago in the climax to a feud with AFL-CIO President George Meany.

He then formed the rival Alliance for Labor Action in an amalgamation with the Teamsters and International Chemical Workers "to organize the unorganized and the poor and get the labor movement moving again."

Those who died Saturday with the red-haired, 62-year-old Reuther were his wife, May, 59; Oskar Stonorov, 65, a Philadelphia architect; William Wolfman, 29, Reuther's bodyguard and Mrs. Reuther's nephew; the pilot, George Evans, 48; and copilot, Joseph Karaffa, 41, both of Columbus, Ohio.

They were en route from Detroit for a weekend visit to the UAW's $15-million education center, which Stonorov designed. It is nearing completion on Black Lake in northern Lower Michigan.

No one survived the flaming crash of the union-chartered twin-engine, executive-type Lear jet as it approached the Pellston airport through rain under low-hanging clouds at 9:33 p.m.

The charred remains were taken to the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor for identification. A doctor said Sunday night the bodies of Reuther and his wife were positively identified by dental charts.

A six-member team from the National Transportation Safety Board flew to Pellston to try to piece together what happened in the minutes between Evans' radioed request for landing clearance and the crash 1½ miles from the airport.

In his sometimes stormy career, Reuther had survived an assassin's shotgun blast which crippled his right arm and had thwarted an attempt to take him on a no-return, gangland-style ride.

He was a participant in the then sensational sit-down strikes of the 1930s in which his fledgling union took ocer auto plants and held them to force its recognition as bargaining agent.

Reuther realized a long-time dream in 1967 when he won a guaranteed annual income from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

In his tenure he also had seen the average wage at the Big Three rise to $4.02 hourly, with fringe benefits estimated to be worth another $1.75 an hour.

The union's other eight top officers, shocked and grieved, described Reuther in a statement as the UAW's "conscience, its heartbeat and its soul," and called upon other unionists "to observe with us a week of mourning in his memory."

They left unanswered the question of who will lead them at the bargaining table.

Under the union's constitution, Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey takes over temporarily. A president to serve until the 1972 convention will be chosen by the remaining 25 members of the international executive board. Its next scheduled meeting is June 2.

Claimants to succession may include Mazey and Vice Presidents Douglas Fraser, Leonard Woodcock and Pat Greathouse. Fraser, Reuther's administrative assistant for eight years, was elevated to a vice presidency only last month and was viewed as being groomed for succession.

President Nixon said Reuther's death was "a deep loss, not only for organized labor but also for the cause of collective bargaining and the entire American process."

"While he was outspoken and controversial," the President continued, "even those who disagreed with him had great respect for his ability, integrity and persistence."

George Meany also was among the leaders of labor, industry and government who expressed regrets. Meany said, "We had disagreements, but we worked together as well and...it is the latter that stands out in my memory." He credited Reuther with "a unique and lasting contribution" to "labor and the nation."

Reuther had supported Democratic presidential candidates since Franklin D. Roosevelt. In breaking with the AFL-CIO he blamed what he said was its failure to get involved in social endeavors such as civil rights.

He had flown millions of miles throughout the world to champion labor and liberal causes.

In March of 1946 Reuther ousted R.J. Thomas as UAW president and had been challenged only twice since, in 1949 and last month. He turned back both challenges overwhelmingly.

Reuther quit school at 15 to go to work as an apprentice tool and die maker upon the death of his father, but later completed his high school education at night and attended Wayne State University night classes for three years. He was fired from tool and die maker job at Ford Motor Co in 1933 for his union activities.

As president of the CIO, Reuther led it into merger with the AFL.

On the night of April 20, 1948, Reuther almost lost his life to a would-be assassin who fired through a kitchen window of Reuther's home.

In May 1949, his brother Victor was the victim of an almost identical attack and lost an eye. Victor was the UAW educational director. He now heads its international affairs department.

In neither case was the assailant apprehended.

In the forefront of an organizing campaign at Ford in 1937, Reuther and other unionists were bloodied in what became famous as "The Battle of the Overpass" at Ford's huge River Rouge complex in suburban Dearborn.

In the spring of 1938 two armed men barged into the Reuther home, intent they said, on taking him for "a ride" and forcibly tried to abduct him. Reuther fought, grabbed a blackjack from one assailant. The presence of others there for a birthday party caused the invaders to flee.

The Reuthers are survived by two daughters, Linda, 27, a San Francisco school teacher, and Lisa, 22, a student at Oakland University in nearby Rochester, Mich., where the Reuthers had made their home in recent years.

Reuther also is survived by his 88-year-old mother, Mrs. Valentine Reuther who lives in his native Wheeling, W. Va.; by Victor and another brother, Theodore, of Wheeling; and a sister, Mrs. Eugene Richey of Reading, Mass.

Mrs. Reuther also is survived by her father, Frank Wolfman, and two brothers, Earl Wolfman and Leo Wolf, who uses the shorter version of the name, both of Detroit.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Agnew Talks At Monument Rites

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, speaking at the dedication of a monument to Confederate heroes, called Saturday for an end to the "evils of sectionalism once and for all."

The vice president, pinch-hitting for President Nixon, spoke only 12 minutes to a disappointing turnout of 10,000 at Stone Mountain Park, where officials were expecting a crowd of 100,000.

Nixon had been scheduled to attend the ceremony dedicating a giant carving of Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and Jefferson Davis on Stone Mountain. Nixon canceled the trip because of student unrest and the Cambodian situation.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Actor To Help

BEERSHEBA, Isreal (AP) — American actor Richard Boone says he has agreed to provide the Israeli film industry with Hollywood know-how.

Boone said he had been approached by Israeli Commerce Ministry officials and volunteered to head a project combining film-making with on the job training of Israeli production crews by Hollywood experts.

Boone, who starred in the television series "Have Gun, Will Travel," is making a movie here with Leslie Caron. He said he would make Israel his base for the next two or three years while carrying out the training project.

Grenade Blasts

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Two grenades exploded outside the residence of U.S. Ambassador Dwight Porter Sunday night and injured a Lebanese policeman, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the explosions caused no damage. Lebanese police were investigating the incident, he added.

Weed Killers To Return To Market

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department says most of the 273 weed killers suspended from interstate sale last month because they contain 2,4,5-T will be returned to the market with revised labels.

The products which were suspended involved only 2, 4, 5-T concentrates intended for use around homes, lakes, ponds and ditch banks.

Fire Kills Nine

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire officials believe an apartment house fire that killed nine persons early Sunday started beneath the building's only two staircases, and have ordered an investigation.

Many of those killed were on the third and fourth floors of the four-story building and were unable to escape as the blaze destroyed the staircases.

The damage was estimated at $90,000.

Pope's View

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says the press, radio and movies are making human life "increasingly superficial and passive."

The pontiff, who spoke Sunday to a crowd in St. Peter's Basilica, said communications from the media "made up of the circulation of ideas, news and entertainment create public opinion, impress people's minds . . . and exert a determining pedagogical influx on youth, on the people, on all society."

Named Patriot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — H. Ross Perot, the Texas millionaire who has been trying to ease the lot of American prisoners of war held by North Vietnam, has been named "Patriot of the Year" by a student group called VIVA—Voice in Vital America.

Sen. George Murphy, R.-Calif., and Gen. Jimmy Doolittle were among 1,000 persons who turned out for a dinner Saturday at which Perot was honored.

Holmes Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., who earned the nickname "The Great Dissenter" as a justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1902 to 1932, is the 94th member of New York University's Hall of Fame for Great Americans.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger spoke at ceremonies Sunday enshrining the jurist and took the occasion to cite Holmes' judicial principles as a model for other judges.

"If Holmes were alive today," Burger declared, "he might say that undisciplined conduct is the result of a foolish assumption of men that the law can be changed quickly."

The chief justice said Holmes stood for judicial restraint, believing Congress should "fix the ground rules" and that judges should stay within their sphere of constitutional authority."

Legacy Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Warren addressed the Anti-Defamation League Sunday night in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, while elsewhere in the hotel an Arab group staged a mock trial of the former U.S. chief justice.

Warren received the America's Democratic Legacy award of the league and told the audience of about 1,000 persons: "We must remember that there are over 20 million Americans, mostly black, who are still denied basic rights of American citizenship."

The Arab group, the Federated Organizations on American-Arab Relations, was unable to enter the hotel ballroom to deliver its verdict on Warren, but instead presented the Anti-Defamation League with a statement accusing Warren of hypocrisy in accepting the ADL award.

TWO THOUSAND MILES FOR EDUCATION

About 225 students of Oak View School, San Rafael, hoof it down Skyview Terrace in the first leg of their "Walk-a-Round" to raise funds for educational and playground equipment at their school. Saturday's march, which started at 9:30 a.m. at Oak View School and ended at 4:30 p.m. at the Terra Linda High School track, netted about $4,000. Each student was sponsored by a friend or relative, some of whom paid $1.50 for each mile the sponsored student walked. Collectively the students marched 2286 miles around the high school track. Israel In Festival Mood To Fete Anniversary

TEL AVIV (AP) — Festive Israelis celebrated their nation's 22nd anniversary today while police patrolled the streets on the lookout for Arab terrorists.

The mood of the country, somber in the wake of escalated guerrilla raids in recent days, was lifted slightly by a marked drop in border clashes.

Between Sunday night and early today only one border incident was reported—an Israeli soldier was slightly wounded in a skirmish on the Jordan River.

But Israeli fighter-bombers crossed the Suez Canal twice today to pound military targets, a spokesman in Tel Aviv said. All the planes in the two raids on the canal's northern sector returned safely, he added.

Many Israelis went on picnics. Others watched a paratroop drop into the Mediterranean, an air force flypast by U.S.-made Phantom fighter-bombers, and a naval display.

But police set up roadblocks on major highways and rounded up suspected terrorists. Last year, troops killed 10 saboteurs who attempted to mar the celebrations.

There was no gaiety in the northern Galilee community of Kiryat Shmona. The town of 15,000, close to the Lebanese border, has seen three of its citizens killed by guerrilla rocket attacks in recent days.

"To my sorrow," said the 71-year-old leader, "this is still not a day of peace in Israel. It is now almost three years since the six-day war. The war was won in six days but peace has not yet come to our people and our land."

Striking in a conciliatory tone, Mrs. Meir called for direct Israeli-Arab negotiations "without any preconditions," adding that her government would approach talks with "full consideration for Arab dignity and legitimate rights."

Foreign Minister Abba Eban, speaking on Israel's Arabic language radio service, said he was convinced his country would make territorial concessions in return for peace.

Occupation Plan To Be Discussed

The San Rafael Board of Education will consider tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. whether to participate in the county's regional occupation program.

The program is designed to bring high school vocational training to students, adults and school drop-outs at Marin high schools.

Meeting at Terra Linda High School, the board will also hear reports on high school accreditation, statewide computer education program and recommendations from the citizens advisory committee.

Ecology Prize

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce will give a book on ecology and environmental control to the winner of a contest sponsored by the chamber's cleanup committee at the Spring Garden Festival, to be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at Richardson Bay Park.

Passenger Train Derails; 20 Injured Near Modesto

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — A Chicago-to-San Francisco passenger train smashed into a stalled forklift truck, injuring 23 persons when the train derailed.

Neither the truck driver nor the train engineer had time to prevent the accident Sunday morning, authorities said.

All 12 units of the Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief, including four locomotives, derailed 10 miles northeast of Modesto in the community of Riverbank.

Of the train's 75 passengers, 20 were hurt—none seriously. Three train crewmen were injured.

"I was impressed with how the people reacted," said Dr. Robert Rynearson of Temple, Tex. Rynearson was one of five physicians aboard the 65-mile-an-hour train en route to the American Psychiatric Association convention who assisted the injured.

"There was absolutely no panic," he said.

'Birds' Schedule

The performance of the Grecian classic "The Birds" by the College of Marin's drama department has been rescheduled a second time for 8 p.m. Wednesday, the college has announced.

Performances are scheduled nightly in the Theatre of Fine Arts building, through May 19 except for Sunday. A 2 p.m. matinee is scheduled for that day.

Water Plan Forum

The Marin Conservation League will sponsor an open meeting to discuss the state water project with emphasis on Peripheral Canal May 28 at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall of the College of Marin.

Students Create Mystery Drama

A melodramatic mystery farce written by and starring Miller Creek School junior high students in Marinwood is scheduled for May 20, 21, and 23 at 8 p.m. in the music room at the school.

The students, who call themselves Young Playwriters Inc., assembled the whodunit between December and April under the supervision of teacher Joan Tibbetts.

Miss Tibbetts also directs the play, which stars Demetrios Johnson, Robert Elkjer, Dan Nichols, Lynn Thompson, Jolene Farnham, Steve Whiteman, David Kastle, Leslie Hinerman, Bonnie Brown, Hugh O'Donnell and Chris Jones.

There will be a dress rehearsal May 15 and 3:30 p.m. at the school.

Bike Rider Hurt

Dennis P. Rioual, 10, of San Francisco was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for face scrapes sustained at 5:30 p.m. when his bicycle struck an auto driven by James J. Kula, 30, of 22 San Pablo Avenue, San Rafael, at the intersection of Upperhill and Underhill roads, Mill Valley.

Student Strikes Hit The Nation's Schools

Most of the nation's colleges were quiet Sunday as students from some of them returned from the weekend demonstration in Washington where about 60,000 persons gathered to protest operations by U.S. troops in Cambodia and the deaths of four Kent State University students.

At the University of Wisconsin, however, a crowd that grew to 4,000 marched on the administration building, breaking windows and demanding that the school reverse its rejection of a class moratorium request. Thundershowers helped National Guardsmen quell the turmoil.

In another development, officials of four major universities indicated they favored a proposal, dopted by Princeton last week, to give undergraduates time off this fall to work in political campaigns.

Among the campuses scheduled for reopening today were the California State university and college system. But student leaders at the Berkeley campus called for "curtailing normal activities for the remainder of the war" and opening the campus to mobilize resources and manpower for protests.

The University of Southern California announced that students won't be penalized if they skip classes the rest of the semester. President Norman Topping said the action was taken "to recognize the right of conscience of every member of the student body and faculty."

The National Student Congress, expecting 2,000 delegates from 61 schools, convened Sunday night at San Jose (Calif) State College under the slogan: "On strike but not shut down. Educational redirection."

Kent State University in Ohio announced it would reopen for its summer quarter starting June 22. President Robert I. White said the faculty senate would see that students were allowed to complete their current courses "through the best possible means."

In New York City, both Kingman Brewster of Yale and the Rev. James Hesburgh of Notre Dame said they were considering putting "campaign vacations" into effect next fall.

Chancellor Albert Bowker of New York City's Board of Higher Education, which runs the 165,000-student City University, said he will recommend a two-week period of free time before the November elections so students may take an active role.

The board passed a resolution Sunday declaring, "It is the duty of the City University to remain open in order to continue to offer instruction to the students enrolled in the university."

Bowker said the resolution assured classes at "most of our 17 schools," but that the final decision on reopening rested with the individual college presidents.

Idaho State University closes today for discussions on the war but students at the University of Utah voted against striking.

Minor Injuries In Auto Wreck

Two men suffered minor cuts when their car spun off Lucas Valley Road, three miles west of Highway 101, Lucas Valley, struck a stump and rolled over Saturday night, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said a westbound car driven by John L. McConnum, 23, of Saratoga, Santa Clara County, skidded on a curve and went off the roadway at 6 p.m.

Boy Arrested In Pot Sale

Bradd Eugene Stine, 16, of 83 Rocca Drive, Petaluma, was arrested Saturday night on suspicion of selling marijuana.

Police said they found Stine and another youth in the Washington Square laundromat at East Washington Street and South McDowell Boulevard. He was also arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana and possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Stine was booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall, Santa Rosa.

A 15-year-old Petaluma boy was arrested yesterday at 12:35 p.m. on suspicion of possession of marijuana when police stopped the car in which he was riding for a traffic violation. He was also booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

McInnis And Zucker To Talk Tomorrow

Paul C. Zucker and John F. McInnis, candiates for McInnis's seat on the Marin County Board of Supervisors, will speak at 9 p.m. tomorrow at a meeting of the Gallinas Village Improvement Association at the Presbyterian Church, 635 Adrian Way.

The two will speak following the group's regular meeting at 8 p.m. at which McInnis will discuss village problems with the members.

Petaluma Council Sets Special Session

The Petaluma City Council will meet in special session at 7:30 p.m. today to award a contract on widening Magnolia Avenue at Petaluma Boulevard North.

Also on the agenda is a resolution opposing the closing of the Human Resources Development office in Petaluma and a presentation by the Petaluma River study conducted by the Sonoma County Economic Development board.

Bolinas Man Hurts Knee In Accident

hTe California Highway Patrol said Dennie J. Zurlinder of 1 Hawthorne Street was a passenger in a car driven by Albin Powler, 47, of 1 Main Street, Bolinas, when it failed to negotiate a turn on Sequoia Valley Road between Panoramic Highway and Mill Valley.

Planners Will Eye Warehouse

The San Rafael Planning Commission will review plans for a warehouse and office development of five buildings at 529 Jacoby Street when it meets tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Each unit would contain eight warehouse spaces, four office spaces and parking for 19 vehicles.

Also on the agenda is consideration of a research and manufacturing building of 30,000 square feet at 4340 Redwood Highway.

Petaluman Treated For Crash Injuries

Joa Da Rocha, 29, of 9421 Petaluma-Valley Ford Road, Petaluma, was treated at Community Hospital of Sonoma County for cuts suffered in an accident yesterday at 7:35 p.m. on the Petaluma-Valley Ford Road, west of Tomales Road.

The California Highway Patrol said Da Rocha swerved to avoid an oncoming car and struck a utility pole.

Sausalito Budget Session Tomorrow

The Sausalito City Council will hold a special session tomorrow at 8 p.m. in city hall to discuss the proposed 1970-71 budget.

A total budget of $1,415,448 has been prepared by former City Mgr. George M. Patterson. This represents an increase over this year's estimated final budget of $1,299,659 but would retain the present tax rate of $1.31.5 per $100 assessed valuation.

Petaluma Boy Hit-Run Victim

A 10-year-old Petaluma Boy was injured Saturday at 1:50 p.m. when he was struck by a hit-and-run car while crossing Washington Street at Keller Street, Petaluma.

Clinton Maybee, 334 Bodega Avenue, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for bruises. He told police that a woman driving a station wagon struck him as he was walking his bicycle across the intersection.

SCHOOLS

Place said teachers are arranging various ways to make up the missed class work, and some are taking pay cuts for the missed days.

The Marin Peace Coalition pamphlets being handed out today called the strike possibly "The last chance for nonviolence" in the anti-war movement.

At Redwood tomorrow, classes will start at 8:30 a.m. for discussion of the Indochina war. Roll Call will be taken during fourth period and students then will go the gymnasium to hear the U. S. speakers. After lunch, time will be given to students advocating different courses of action.

Kreps said the convocation is open to parents and the general public. He said the teach-in is intended to keep the school open for learning rather than closing down as some students suggest.

One College of Marin student, Kenneth H. Crandall, 25, of San Anselmo, telephoned the Independent-Journal to protest the strike there. He said the protesters "should not stop students who want to get an education." Crandall, a Vietnam veteran, said he agreed with the strikers' antiwar sentiments but disagreed with the strike tactics.

Music Students Given Awards

Three music students have been awarded funds for further study by judges of the Maurice Wilk Scholarship Annual Auditions held recently in Angelico Hall at Dominican College of San Rafael.

First award of $200 was given to cellist Jed Barahal, 14, of San Rafael. He studied cello with Richard Anastasio at Dominican College. Because of a tie for second place, the judges split the award, giving $100 each to pianist Patricia Carrico, 20, and soprano Clairellen Waldeck, 17.

Miss Carrico lives in Reno, Nev. She is a junior at Dominican, where she studies piano with Dr. Ted M. Blair. Miss Waldeck lives in Mill Valley, where she studies voice with Mme. Bella Resek.

Cycle, Auto Hit, Injuring Driver

Clovis D. Kee, 28, of 260 Cinnabar Avenue, Petaluma, was treated at Petaluma General Hospital for a bump on the head after his motorcycle collided with a car yesterday at 1 p.m. at Petaluma Boulevard North and Payran Street, Petaluma.

Youth Injured In Cycle Crash

A 19-year-old Corte Madera youth was treated for cuts on the left leg and foot and scrapes on the back at Marin General Hospital after a motorcycle accident at 3:40 p.m. yesterday.

The California Highway Patrol said Michael L. Brady of 54 Lakeside Drive was taken to Marin General by car after his motorcycle went out of control on Paradise Drive between Corte Madera and Tiburon.

Car Drags Woman In Parking Lot

A San Anselmo woman escaped with minor injuries yesterday after being dragged 42 feet by a car in a shopping center parking lot, San Anselmo police reported.

Norma J. Vance, 45, of 49 Cedar Street, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple body scrapes. Police said she was hit at 1:50 p.m. in the Red Hill shopping center lot by a car driven by Hector M. Stephen, 68, of San Francisco.

OBITUARIES

William Calder Rites Held

Funeral for William L. A. Calder of San Rafael, a retired lawyer, was held today in San Francisco.

Calder died at his home at 11 Albion Street Thursday after a short illness. He was 95.

The San Francisco lawyer practiced law for more than 60 years in Billings, Mont., and San Francisco before retiring in 1962. He had his won practice, although he was once associated with the late John R. Terrill.

A native of Ontario, Canada, he moved to South Dakota and graduated from the University of South Dakota in 1901. He was a member of the school's alumni association.

He also belonged to the California Bar Association.

Calder moved to San Francisco in 1935 from Billings and to Mill Valley in 1952, where he lived at 98 Kings Way. He moved to San Rafael last year.

Inurnment will be at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma. The family asked that memorial contributions be made to the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, Spokane, Wash.

JOHN GUENZA

Funeral for John Peter Guenza Sr., father of John P. Guenza Jr. of 280 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, will be at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Rose Catholic Church in Santa Rosa.

Guenza, 67, died Saturday in a Santa Rosa hospital following a short illness.

A native of Albion in Mendocino County, he had lived in Sonoma County for 53 years. He was assistant superintendent of the gas department in Santa Rosa for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., for which he worked for 42 years.

He enjoyed hunting and fishing, and was a member of St. Rose Catholic Church, the Santa Rosa Bennett Valley Grange, the Izaak Walton League and the Pacific Service Employees Association.

In addition to his son, Guenza is survived by his wife, Louise Guenza of Santa Rosa; a daughter, Sharon Wulf of Belmont; four brothers, Charles, Phillip, Ernest and Harry Guenza, all of Santa Rosa; two sisters, Josephine Bolla of Sonoma, and Emma Madpalena of El Centro; and a grandson.

The Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. today at the Welti Chapel of the Roses in Santa Rosa. Entombment will be at Calvary Catholic Cemetery. The family prefers contributions to the American Heart Association or a favorite charity.

PEARL DOGGETT

Funeral for Pearl Doggett, mother of Hazel D. Manning of 1 Crest Road, Ross, was held today at N. Gray and Co., San Francisco.

Mrs. Doggett died Thursday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. She was 83.

A native of Bath, S.D., she moved to Hanford, Kings County, in 1905 and to Mendota, Fresno County, in 1955. She lived with her daughter in Ross on and off for the past two years.

The only other survivor is a brother, W. B. Smith of Santa Cruz.

MARY DALY

Funeral for Mary A. Daly who lived at Nazareth House, 245 Nova Albion Way, in San Rafael for the last 10 years, will be at noon tomorrow at the Church of the Assumption in Ventura.

Mrs. Daly, 85, died Saturday at Nazareth House following a long illness.

A native of Tombstone, Ariz., she had lived in California 59 years. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Dominic.

She is survived by a daughter, Sister M. Jordan, OP, of Stockton.

FRANK JANISEN

Funeral was held today for Frank F. Janisen of 2228 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, who collapsed and died at his home Friday.

Janisen retired in 1968 as vice president of the Teamsters, Warehousemen and Helpers Union Local 624 of Novato.

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Marin County for 35 years. He went to work for Local 624 in 1952.

Janisen is survived by his wife, Anne F., of the home address; three daughters, Mrs. Jerry Shabica of Rohnert Park, Nancy Sellmann of Sebastopol and Eileen Janisen of San Rafael; two sons, Leland F. Janisen of Novato and John F. Janisen of San Rafael; a sister, Audrey Janisen of San Francisco; and 12 grandchildren.

Burial will be private. The family prefers memorial contributions to the First Church of Christ Scientist, San Rafael.

MADGE MOORE

A memorial service for Madge W. Moore of Belvedere will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco.

Mrs. Moore died in a local hospital Friday after a long illness. She was 77.

Born in San Francisco, she moved to 25 Tamalpais Avenue in Belvedere in 1948. She lived there with her son, David W. Moore.

She was a contributor to many groups and organizations, but especially to the United Nations Association.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clifford Greene Jr. of Boise, Idaho; a sister, Grace Fairlie of San Francisco; and five grandchildren.

Inurnment will be in Idaho. The family asked that memorial contributions be made to the United Nations Association.

JESSE HALL

Jesse Merritt Hall, 55, of 1151 Mirabella Avenue, Novato, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Olive Branch, Miss., he was a veteran of World War II, and, as an Air Force reservist, was called back to active duty in the Korean War. He had lived in Novato for the past 13 years. He was a laundryman for Dominican Convent in San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Ruth Hall and a daughter, Melissa Lou Hall, both of the home; two sisters, Lorene Watkins of Grand Prairie, Tex. and Neva Kuntz of Horn Lake, Miss., and a brother, Willie Hall of Memphis, Tenn.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

AMEND TANGVALD

Funeral for Amend Tangvald, a forty-year resident of Petaluma, was held today at the Parent Funeral Chapel in Petaluma.

Tangvald, 81, died Thursday at a Petaluma convalescent hospital following a long illness.

A native of Norway, he came to the United States in 1910, and to California and Petaluma, where he worked for poultry producers, in 1930. His last address was 2 Hamilton Drive, Petaluma.

Inurnment was at Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

McInnis, Zucker Both To Speak

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis and his challenger at the June 2 election, Paul C. Zucker, will appear at a candidates' night at 8 p.m. May 18 at San Rafael High School.

Sponsoring the event are the Central Marin League of Women Voters, Marin branch of the American Association of University Women and the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. H. James Compton, voter's service league chairman of the Central Marin league, will chair the meeting.

Woman Candidate For Nixon Impeachment

Zaide Kirtley, a San Francisco lawyer seeking the Democratic nomination to Congress from the Sixth District, said yesterday she supports a move in Congress to impeach President Richard M. Nixon for expanding the war in Southeast Asia.

School Art Show For San Rafael

San Rafael city school's annual art exhibit opened today for an 11-day run.

The exhibit is being held in the district's administration building and will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Reagan Endorses Doctor Measure

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan endorsed Prop. 1 on the June 2 ballot Sunday, saying the $246 million bond issue "will help relieve a critical shortage of doctors, dentists and nurses in the state."

The ballot measure would pay for completion or expansion of the University of California's medical facilities and training centers at David, Irvine, San Diego, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Reagan said the state is not producing enough doctors to take care of its needs.

"For every three new doctors we produce in California, we are losing four," he said. "We are being forced to recuit 70 per cent of all our physicians from out of state."

Zucker Says McInnis 'Aloof, Unresponsive'

In two appearances during the weekend, Paul C. Zucker, candidate for Marin County Supervisor, charged his incumbent opponent with being "aloof, inaccessible and unresponsive," and labeled "inexcusable" County Administrator Alan Bruce's recommendation that 31 county employees be fired before the employees were informed of the recommendation.

Zucker said at a candidate's night Friday at Painters' Hall in San Rafael that Supervisor John F. McInnis: "on one hand talks about controlling urban sprawl and then votes for a West Marin plan calling for as much population as currently exists in all of Marin's 11 cities.

"Sees nothing wrong with a board-appointed member of the Bolinas Study Committee voluntarily telling the county that land being acquired for a park is worth $192,000 more than county appraisals.

"Calls for the cities and county to get together on planning, and when they do attends only two out of eight meetings and tries to emasculate the budget for this work two years in a row.

"Leads the board to cozy decisions on mental health behind closed doors."

At a reception at a Marinwood home Saturday, Zucker criticized the county's personnel management. "An employee is told that he may or may not be fired sometime in the next month, but so the county won't have to give so much notice he is told in advance," he said.

Zucker said that Bruce and McInnis, chairman of the board of supervisors, "slipped such a proposal through for six employees several weeks ago without anyone's knowledge.

"The Board had to backtrack and rescind these actions two weeks later when they tried again with three positions," he said.

Stereo Taken

Ken Martin, 8400 Two Rock Road, Petaluma, has told police a stereo and tape decks valued at $181 had been stolen from his car Saturday night while parked at the Petaluma Veteran's Memorial Building, 1100 Petaluma Boulevard South, Petaluma.

Big Impala '400' sale

Impala Custom Coupe

Order the options you'd probably order anyhow.

That's the deal. For no extra cost we add our big 265-hp V8 engine that runs on regular gas, along with a dual exhaust system. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

The Impala you're buying got to be America's No. 1 car because of all the value features built right in. Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel side guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which also contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value.

You're getting America's No. 1 car on sale. The car more people buy—year after year after year.

On sale.
How can you beat that?
Putting you first, keeps us first.

CHEVROLET

MOTHER'S DAY VIGIL

Fairfax Council Sets Cable TV Discussion

Discussion of the Clear View Cable Systems franchise in Fairfax is on the city council's agenda at 8 p.m. today, but there have been no new developments in the situation since the council discussed it last Monday, according to City Administrator Frances Lestanguet.

Mrs. Lestanguet said Saturday that the city still had not received written confirmation of an offer the cable company made orally to City Atty. Wallace Myers concerning renegotiation of the franchise contract.

According to the terms of the contract, Fairfax gets 2 per cent of the company's Fairfax revenue. Because of a change in state law since the contract was signed in 1964, other Marin cities are getting 5 per cent, and the Fairfax council has been trying to figure out a way to get it.

Another piece of mail the council has been expecting, but not yet received, is the written resignation of Leo. T. Cronin from the Fairfax Planning Commission.

Cronin resigned orally April 24 and was asked at the time to submit his resignation in writing. It hasn't been received, Mrs. Lestanguet said Saturday, but the matter is on tonight's agenda in case the council wants to do anything about it.

The council will also consider completion of the Forrest Avenue restoration project, a petition for a stop sign at the intersection of Manor and Scenic roads, and a suggestion from the city's youth commission regarding litter cans.

Nuclear Plant Is Sabotaged

WYLVA, Wales (AP) — Officials investigated today the possibility that disgruntled workers were responsible for smashing gauges, dials and meters and removing essential wiring from a Welsh nuclear power station nearing completion.

Site manager Richard Elliott said the damage, discovered Sunday, would not stop the facility from being completed on schedule, by the end of this year.

In the past, extremists seeking an independent Wales have claimed responsibility for sabotaging water pipelines and other public facilities. But Elliott said there is no evidence the extremists were to blame for the power plant damage.

Novato Council Decides On One Planning Seat

The Novato City Council has unanimiously endorsed appointment of Richard L. O'Connell, a water quality engineer, to the planning commission.

O'Connell, who lives at 18 Isabella Court, was selected over three other nominees during a closed session Friday — the second week — to fill one of two commission seats vacated April 14 when F. Wayne Sartain and George C. Quesada were elected to the city council.

Councilman Joseph Gargiulo said the second seat is expected to be filled during the council's regular meeting Tuesday night.

"We have considered about 25 applications," Gargiulo said, "and we still have some applicants to interview."

Kettenhofen Favors Easier Tax Forms

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, candidate for the GOP nomination for State Board of Equalization from the Third District, has called for simplified tax forms for small businessmen.

Kettenhofen, speaking in Siskiyou County, said he also would seek publication of a taxpayers' reference handbook if elected.

Tomales Coed Wins Dairy Princess Title

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Smith and is a major in sociology. Her father is agriculture teacher at Tomales High School.

A graduate of Lompoc Senior High School, Santa Barbara County, she has been a resident of Marin for three years.

Miss Smith will represent the district, covering Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Napa, Lake and Solano Counties in competition for the state title June 23-25 at Hollywood.

Vickie Mulas, 18-year-old senior at Sonoma Valley High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchel Mulas of Sonoma, was selected as alternate princess. Terri Ann Brazil, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony G. Brazil, 3131 Old Adobe Road, Petaluma, was named Miss Vitality.

Black Is Elected Golden Gate Prexy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lee Terrell, 26, Berkeley, has been elected the first black student body president in the 70-year history of Golden Gate College.

He said there are about 300 blacks among the 3,000 students at the business and law college.

Seminary Choir To Give Concert

The male choir of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo will present a public concert Thursday at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo.

Directed by Wilbur F. Russell the choir will perform a program of a cappella works ranging from the Reformation period through the Baroque with some contemporary American numbers.

Included will be early American folk hymns and the Bruckner "Fest Praeludium" with the choir accompanied by Russell on the organ.

Some of the choral numbers will be accompanied by a group composed of violinist Steven Golden, cellist Alison Hansen and Russell on the harpsichord. This group will also play the Clair Trio Sonata in D.

Gatov Endorses

Elizabeth Gatov or Kentfield, former U.S. treasurer and Democratic national committeewoman, has endorsed Milton G. Gordon, Democratic candidate for state treasurer.

180 Mothers Visit Imprisoned Sons

SAN QUENTIN (AP)—About 180 women in their spring clothes attended church services and ate breakfast Sunday with their inmate sons at Mother's Day.

The third annual Mother's Day program at the state prison was the biggest so far.

F-310

Here are the facts:

Dirty automobile engines make dirty air.

If all the dirty engines on the road—and there are a lot of them—could be cleaned, and then kept clean, there would be a lot less air pollution.

F-310 will keep a clean engine clean.

If a car is new or if its engine is clean, F-310 will not improve its performance nor reduce its emission of pollutants, and we have never made such a claim. But very importantly, F-310 will keep the critical parts of the engine free from harmful deposits, so that its emissions will remain at a minimum.

F-310 will clean dirty engines.

F-310—after just six tanksful—will clean the critical parts of such engines, restore them to better running condition, and sharply reduce their emissions of unburned hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide—two of the major pollutants in auto exhaust.

That is a real contribution to air pollution control.

The claims we make for F-310 are big ones—but F-310 has made good on them. Here are some of the facts:

Multi-car tests of F-310

- Cars with dirty engines—Scott Research Laboratories, one of the leading independent automotive emissions testing organizations in the U. S., conducted 14 tests of F-310 on eight autos with dirty engines. Results—Chevron with F-310 reduced hydrocarbon emissions by an average of better than 50%—from 560 to 250 parts per million (p.p.m.)—and cut carbon monoxide emissions by an average of more than a third—from 2.5% to 1.6%—after less than 2,000 miles of driving.

- Sheriffs' vehicles—Six autos engaged in rugged patrol service in Southern California were switched from a competitive gasoline to Chevron with F-310. The result, determined by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare testing laboratories in Commerce, California—unburned hydrocarbons reduced by an average of 103 p.p.m., or 24%, and carbon monoxide emissions lowered 42%.

- Passenger car fleet—In another test by Scott Research Laboratories, a fleet of cars in normal service in Orange County, California, was switched from a competitive gasoline to Chevron with F-310. Results from 37 vehicles, after 2,000 miles of operation on F-310, show that hydrocarbon emissions were reduced by an average of 48 p.p.m., or 13%, and carbon monoxide emissions were reduced an average of 31%.

- European cars—Exhaust emissions of numerous foreign cars, operating on conventional local gasolines, were measured in our laboratories in Europe. Ten "high emitters" from this group were switched to Chevron with F-310. Result—after runs of 1,500 to 3,000 miles—average reductions, under idling conditions, of 67% in unburned hydrocarbons, and 14% in carbon monoxide emissions.*

*Note: Tests on the European cars were conducted at idle engine speed, when emissions measure substantially higher than during actual driving. All other tests cited herein were made during a "seven-mode cycle," which simulates normal driving conditions.

Other competitive products tests

At San Bernardino, California, Scott Research Laboratories also conducted these revealing tests on competitive products:

- Another competitive gasoline was used to fuel a dirty engine in a 1966 Chevrolet. After 2,000 miles on this competitive fuel, hydrocarbon emissions decreased from 710 to 610 p.p.m. Carbon monoxide emissions showed no improvement, remaining at 3.2%, or double what they should be in this model car.

  The vehicle was then switched to Chevron with F-310. Result—after 1,500 miles more of driving, both kinds of emissions were reduced to near new-car levels, i.e., from 610 to 230 p.p.m. of hydrocarbons and from 3.2% to 1.7% of carbon monoxide.

- Another competitive gasoline, advertised as of first quality, was used to fuel a 1966 Chevrolet with an initially clean carburetor and PCV pollution control valve for 21,000 miles of driving. On completion of the test, hydrocarbon emissions had increased from 230 to 640 p.p.m. and carbon monoxide emissions were up from 1.7% to 3.5%.

  We have offered governmental agencies access to this car at Scott Research Laboratories for inspection and testing.

The results of all these and many other tests are available to governmental agencies.

The role of F-310

Older automobile engines make dirty air. One of the principal reasons for this is that they tend to accumulate harmful deposits which increase exhaust emissions. In California, for example, pre-1966 autos without emission controls make up 65% of the car population—but they emit 85% of the unburned hydrocarbons,† one of the chief pollutants in auto exhaust.

As we have repeatedly said, F-310 has been proved highly effective for cleaning out harmful deposits from the critical parts of engines, restoring these engines to better running condition, and reducing their emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide.

†According to analysis of data compiled by the State of California Air Resources Board.

Will F-310 reduce emissions from every car?

No, it will not. F-310 does not reduce the emissions of a new, clean car below the minimum levels determined by its engine design. But, importantly, it will keep that car's engine clean.

F-310 is both new and different

On the basis of the tests we have conducted—and of others that are still going forward—we are convinced that no competitive gasoline can do all of the things that we have proved Chevron gasolines with F-310 can do:

1. Take a dirty engine—even one that's stalling and emitting black smoke—and restore its critical parts to clean condition.
2. Take a clean engine and keep it that way, even in severe service.
3. Improve mileage in dirty engines—since cleaner engines consume less fuel.
4. Make a significant contribution to the control of air pollution by reducing emissions of older cars—the biggest polluters on the road.

F-310 is by no means the total solution to the air pollution problem. It reduces hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions. It has no beneficial effect on emissions of nitrogen oxides, or of lead particulates, and this we have never claimed.

More work—including basic modifications in the design of the internal combustion engine—will have to be done before all auto emissions can be abated to meet the more stringent emission standards of the future.

However, F-310 is a step—a significant step—in the right direction; and we expect it will be just as effective and important in controlling pollution from autos tomorrow as it is today.

Reed Trustees Ask 60-Cent Tax Rise

Two trustees of the Reed School District, who last year won election to the board partly because of their opposition to a 50-cent tax increase election, have done about-faces and come out in favor of this year's 60-cent tax increase election.

Kenneth G. Wells and James B. Richwagen, along with the other three members of the board, have endorsed the June 2 ballot measure raising the district's tax rate ceiling from $2.25 to $2.85 per $100 assessed valuation.

They cite programs cut last year when the board found itself in the position of having a $2,347,467 tentative budget with estimated income of $1,876,285.

"It is desirable that some of the programs cut last year, such as art, wood shop, home economics, music, outdoor education, field trips and the more able learner program be restored and augmented," Wells said.

Other reasons for the tax increase mentioned by Mervin Field, chairman of the citizens committee to push for the hike, include the need to defray the initial costs of opening Reedland Woods School, re-establishment of a program of preventative maintenance and recruiting experienced and well-trained teachers.

But Field said one reason more than any other was responsible for his accepting the committee chairmanship—the need for unity in Reed School District.

"This election is an opportunity to try to weld together a number of different factions within the district which in recent months have been embroiled in controversies over educational policy and implementation," he said.

The controversies include the struggle between teachers and the board over grading policies; the search for a superintendent to replace Robert B. Gaw, who resigned in April to head a school in Southeast Asia; and the decision of the board to close Reed School this fall, which brought the charge that teachers at the school hadn't been consulted.

Field said he sees the campaign as "a vehicle of informing people about the values of local education and involving the district's voters in this important local facility."

Reed has not had an increase in the basic tax rate since 1958, when voters narrowly approved a 90-cent hike, 679 to 625.

Two tax increases have been defeated since then. Voters rejected a $1 increase in 1963, 994 to 585, and in April 1969 turned down a 50-cent increase, 1,783 to 1,126, at the same time they elected Wells and Richwagen to the board.

Bond issues have fared better in the district. Three have been approved since 1960—one for $525,000 in that year, one for $550,000 in 1963, and a $1.6 million bond issue in 1967 to build Deedland Woods School.

Field pointed out one possible reason for the poor record tax elections have had in the district. "Not too long ago half the people in the district had children in elementary schools," he said. "Now that figure is closer to one-fourth."

While the increase would authorize a levy of 60 cents more, trustees ave stated they will use only 35 cents of that total for the 1970-71 year. The owner of a $45,000 home, average in the district, would pay $37 more a year if the hike is approved.

Poor Feast On Stolen Food

PARIS (AP) — Shantytown dwellers of Paris got a rare treat Sunday as a band of young Maoists spread out luxury banquets of stolen food and handed out subway tickets grabbed from a station in the French capital's most elegant residential district.

The feasts included vintage wine and champagne, foie gras with truffles, poultry, game, fruit and cream cakes—all stolen from a luxury grocery store in a lightning raid Friday.

Police, who did not know who had stolen the thousands of dollars worth of food and the 30,000 subway tickets valued at $6,000, learned of the banquets too late to take any action, a spokesman said.

"We are not thieves but militants of the people's resistance," one of the youths told newsmen, who had been tipped off before the event.

Workers Needed

The Inverness Music Festival board will form work committees Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Inverness School in preparation of this year's festival. Anyone interested in planning the festival, to be held in August, may attend the meeting, the board announced.

Man Is Slightly Hurt In Rollover

Jimmy Lee Huskey, 36, of South San Francisco, suffered a sore back and shoulders when his car veered off Los Ranchitos Road, west of Highway 101, Rafael Meadows, and overturned, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers said Huskey was driving east when he attempted to pull over to the shoulder, overshot the mark and went into the ditch at 6 a.m. Saturday. He refused hospitalization.

County Supervisors To Discuss Employees

Marin County supervisors will meet behind closed doors for about an hour tomorrow to instruct County Administrator Alan Bruce on his negotiations with employee organizations for a 1970-71 contract.

Employee groups are asking for a minimum 7 per cent raise in salaries, bigger county contributions for insurance and other fringe benefits.

The board, in open session beginning about 9:45 a.m., will consider a resolution drawn by Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. calling for President Richard M. Nixon to heed the advice of Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel to listen to ideas and problems of youth.

The morning agenda also includes these items: a fee schedule for use of the Civic Center fairgrounds, a rpeort on increased cost of installing parking lights at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, hearing on the proposed tidal waterways ordinance to control filling and building on the shoreline and a request to condemn 31 more acres to add to McNear's Beach.

In the afternoon, the supervisors will get a report from the Land Conservation Advisory Committee on how it proposes to redesignate agricultural preserve areas in the county and hold a public hearing on a proposed ordinance to control logging.

3 Architects Elected Fellows

Three more Marin architects have been elected fellows of the American Institute of Architects.

Lawrence Lackey of Laurel Grove Avenue, Ross; Gabell Gwathmey of 20 Windward Road, Belvedere; and Donald K Olsen of 666 Bridgeway, Sausalito, will be invested at the institute's annual convention June 22 in Boston.

The election as fellows of Robert B. Marquis and Neill Smith, also both of Marin, was announced previously.

The lifetime honor is bestowed by the institute for outstanding contributions in the field of architecture. Only 957 of the 23,300 AIA members have been elected to fellowship, according to the institute.

Park, Recreation Bond Elections Due In Novato

Two bond issues — $2,365,000 for park development and $600,000 for purchase of 67 acres for a recreation center — will go before Novato voters in the June 2 primary election.

Similar issues have come before voters twice in recent years. They approved $100,000 for a swimming pool in 1962 but defeated a $2.25 million issue in 1968.

If both bond issues are approved taxpayers will pay an additional 41.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation next year, 56.5 cents in 1972-73, when the park is completed, but the levy will decrease thereafter as the assessed valuation of the city increases, according to Recreation Director Edward W. Adams.

If only the $600,000 bond issue is approved the tax rate will jump 6.5 cents, Adams said. These projections are based on 7 per cent interest over a 17-year period.

The smaller bond issue would raise money to purchase the 67-acre O'Hair property at Novato Boulevard and Sutro Avenue. Of this amount $400,000 would be spent on construction of a swimming pool.

Completion of Pioneer Memorial Park would use $150,000 of the larger bond issue.

Other items listed in order of their priority for development are: parking area for 200 cars, $47,000; sewer, $27,000; night lighted softball diamond, $40,000; bridge over Novato Creek, $7,000; picnic area, $15,000; night lighted baseball diamond, $90,000; development of nine acres as a park, $135,000; refurbish one house on the property for a teen center, $10,000.

Day camp, $5,000; riding arena, $20,000; minimum development of 30 acres on the hillside, $30,000; a second parking area for 190 cars, $24,000; play apparatus, $15,000; tot area, $10,000; a second nine acres developed for a park, $135,000; 4-H Club area, $5,000; animal farm, $8,000; four night lighted tennis courts, $70,000; an additional five acres developed for a park, $75,000; camping area, $5,000; a group picnic area, $10,000 and little league field, $12,000.

James F. McConnell, parks and recreation commissioner who has worked for years on a park program, is heading a citizens committee for the park bonds. This committee has written the arguments for the bonds which will appear on the ballot. There is no argument against them.

The bonds would provide Novato with its first large recreational park for use by family groups, the committee said. Sites of this size are vanishing rapidly from Novato and the city must act quickly to obtain the large parcel, the argument says.

The park would be oriented toward the 15,000 persons in Novato who are under the age of 18, McConnell said. It would be completed in three years.

The committee argues that the city has only one building, the Novato Community House, available for recreation and this building is used to its capacity.

Ribera and Sue Landscape Architects, the same firm that drew the plans for Pioneer Memorial Park, made the schematic drawings for O'Hair Park.

Cloud Seeding To Fight Fires

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Interior Department today announced plans to seed clouds in Alaska with rain-inducing silver iodide during June and July, to fight what is expected to be one of the most severe forest fire seasons in that state in recent years.

The department said cloud seeding was tried last year on an experimental basis and experts believe it will be a valuable fire-fighting tool. Exceptionally light snow and rainfall this year has left Alaska unusually dry.

The cloud seeding will take place mainly within a 50 miles radius of Galena, Alaska, about 250 miles west of Fairbanks.

Shop Center Use Permit On Agenda

The Novato Planning Commission will consider tonight revocation of a use permit for a shopping center proposed by Sutter Hills Development Co. at South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

The controversial permit was denied by the planning commission but granted by the city council Feb. 24 by a 4-1 vote, with Councilman Douglas M. Merrill against. In the April election, planning commissioners F. Wayne Sartain and George C. Quesada were elected to the council, thus providing a majority against the permit.

A decision on the permit will go to the city council tomorrow night.

The commission will also consider recommending a zone change for the same property from planned commercial to planned residential.

Cemetery Thieves Take Persian Rugs

Someone broke into the mausoleum at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, near San Rafael, last week and took two Persian rugs, valued at $1,000, sheriff's deputies have reported.

Deputies said the rugs were taken between 5 p.m. Thursday and 7:15 a.m. Friday. Entry was through a window.

Teachers To Report On Budget

The Kentfield School District board at its 8 p.m. meeting today will get the reaction of the district teachers to the board's tentative budget proposal which includes a 6 per cent salary schedule increase, as well as an increase in fringe benefits, for teachers.

Ed Allen, representing the Kentfield Teachers Association, will report to the board on the matter.

The board will also discuss a change in state law under which they will have to pay about $4200 next year toward programs for handicapped students operated by the county.

Plans for the restoration of the Adeline E. Kent School campus, disrupted by work on the Corte Madera Creek flood control project, will also be discusseed.

Woman Scares Off Attacker

An 18-year-old Novato woman was the victim of attempted rape about 6:30 p.m. yesterday as she was walking in the wooded area north of Merritt Drive, according to police.

A man grabbed her from behind, she told police. She struggled with him and bit him on the right arm and shoulder and her screams frightened him away, according to police.

He was described as approximately six feet tall, of heavy build, with greasy black hair between 25 and 35 years of age. He was wearing a green plaid shirt and khaki pants.

Mihalisin Gets UROC Equalization Backing

Robert E. Mihalisin, West Sacramento businessman, has been endorsed for the Third District seat on the State Board of Equalization by the United Republicans of California.

Mihalisin is in a field of 15 candidates for the seat being vacated by longtime incumbent Paul R. Leake of Yolo County.

The district covers 25 Northern California counties including Marin and Sonoma.

Mihalisin, a member of the Yolo County Reepublican Central Committee, filed the suit that disqualified Bert A. Betts, former Democratic state treasurer, from running for the seat, on a charge that Betts wasn't a legal resident of the district.

Mihalisin has advocated that all counties have separately elected boards of equalization, instead of the current practice of having boards of supervisors or their appointees sit as a board of equalization.

Car Violation Leads To Arrest

A 24-year-old Novato man, stopped for a traffic violation at 1:15 a.m. today at Nave Shopping Center, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana for sale, police reported.

Held in lieu of $3,125 bail in Marin County Jail was Russell Raymond Radcliffe of 20 Summers Avenue. He was schedued to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

When police stopped the car they found a plastic bag containing a large quantity of green vegetable matter thought to be marijuana.

Wallet Taken

William E. Cardinal of 166 Riviera Drive, San Rafael reported to San Rafael police that a wallet containing $40 and credit cards was stolen yesterday around 6:30 p.m. from his coat pocket while he was at the Peacock Gap Country Club cocktail lounge.

Currency Taken

A thief who pried open a locked desk sometime Saturday or yesterday stole $150 in currency from the laboratory of Dr. John H. Manwaring at 711 D Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Health Facilities Bonds Top List Of Propositions

One big state bond issue will be on June 2 primary ballots. It heads a list of eight propositions to be voted on statewide.

Proposition 1 calls for authorization to issue $246,300,000 in bonds to provide health science facilities at various campuses of the University of California.

These would include completion of new facilities for the new school of medicine and extension of the school of veterinary medicine at Davis; completion of facilities for a school of medicine at Irvine; clinic facilities for an expanded school of medicine and completion of a new school of dentistry at Los Angeles, and the following at San Francisco: Further clinical facilities, expansion of the schools of dentistry and pharmacy, a new school of nursing facility, and additional facilities for the school of human biology and San Francisco Medical Center. They also would include expansion of schools of public health and optometry at San Francisco: further clinical fa- of medicine at San Diego, and planning for a second veterinary school somewhere in Southern California.

It is not surprising, considering the variety of facilities that the bonds would finance, that Proposition 1 has backing from the medical profession, from nurses, from optometrists, from veterinarians, and from public health workers.

WHY IS SUCH a huge construction program needed?

The Citizens Committee for Proposition 1, which is carrying the campaign for the various supporting groups, says the prime reason is a shortage of doctors, dentists and nurses. It cites these figures:

California now trains only 30 per cent of its doctors, 20 per cent of its veterinarians, 25 per cent of newly licensed nurses, and 65 per cent of dentists. In 1966, not enough new doctors were graduated to replace those who died, let alone take care of population increase.

Moreover, claims the committee, not enough are drawn from those trained outside the state. "There are simply not enough people in every phase of health care in California," it declares.

FOR THOSE in the populous sections of Marin and Sonoma counties, this is a little hard to believe. Marin's central section is so well supplied with doctors that one sometimes wonders how they can all maintain their high living standards. The first suspicion might be that there would be a lack of patients, rather than a lack of doctors.

Those who live in one part of Marin, though — West Marin — are aware of a shortage that exists in many places in California. They have had trouble over the years keeping a single physician to serve the communities all the way from Stinson Beach to Tomales. This situation no doubt is typical of many rural areas in California.

One wonders whether the additional doctors, dentists, nurses and veterinarians who could be trained if Proposition 1 passes might all gravitate to the populous centers, leaving rural areas as badly off as they are now. However, obviously if the doctors, etc., are not trained there will be none to fill the now-unfilled needs.

ANOTHER PROPOSITION also up on June 2, to permit increased interest rates on state bonds, will have a bearing on whether bonds issued under Proposition 1 could be sold immediately. However, the authorization would remain even if it were necessary to hold the bonds off the market until there is a drop in interest rate.

Metroliners Prove Trains Can Succeed

By LOUIS CASSELS UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — During the past 15 months, more than one million passengers have traveled between New York and Washington aboard new high-speed trains called Metroliners.

The stainless steel trains, operated by the Penn Central Railroad, make six round trips a day. Hitting speeds up to 120 miles an hour, they make the trip in just under three hours with intermediate stops at Baltimore, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Trenton and Newark.

If you're lucky enough to get a club car seat (which has to be reserved well in advance, because the demand is so great) you can have an excellent meal served at your seat, just as on airlines. Coach passengers can get drinks and sandwiches —remarkably good and reasonable in price —from conveniently located snack bars.

THE MOST AMAZING discoveries, to any passenger old enough to remember what conventional passengers trains are like, is that Metroliners are spotlessly clean, the seats are comfortable, the service is courteous and —miracle of miracles —the chances are 9 out of 10 that you'll leave and arrive on time.

The enthusiastic public response would seem to refute, once and for all, the cherished contention of some railroad executives that there's no demand for rail passenger service in America.

Railroads have been using that argument for years to justify abandoning passenger services. They've never been willing to acknowledge that the lack of demand might reflect the abominably poor service inflicted on the traveling public by most conventional passenger trains.

THE PENN CENTRAL, not noted for pioneering, was lured into the eMtroliner experiment by the promise of a $10 million federal subsidy. The subsidy payments have not yet begun, because Penn Central still hasn't brought the service up to the standards set by the government. The U.S. Department of Transportation wants nine roundtrips a day instead of six, and it feels that Penn Central could and should do far more to improve the roadbed and reduce the interludes of rocking-and-rolling which now occasionally interrupt the overall smoothness of the ride. So far the Penn Central has spent about $57 million of its own money on the project, and it would like to get some of the money back in the form of the subsidy.

Millions of Americans who may never travel by train have a stake in the success of the Metroliner experiment. The development of high-speed ground transportation is an absolute necessity to forestall hopeless congestion of airways and highways in heavily populated sections of the country, such as the eastern seaboard.

Already, many airways and airports are dangerously overutilized, and delays in takeoffs and landings are becoming longer each year. Projections by the Bueau of Public Roads indicate that auto traffic on intercity highways in the northeast — already quite dence —will nearly double by 1985 unless alternative means of ground transportation are provided.

LEGISLATION is pending in Congress to provide large-scale federal support for development of a modern rail passenger system throughout the country, but its fate is in doubt.

Neither on Capitol Hill nor at the White House does there seem to be any great sense of urgency about providing Americans with the kind of modern rail service that Europeans and Japanese have enjoyed for years.

Ragged Dick's Rise To Riches: The Story Of Public Welfare

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Attitude of the government toward welfare recipients is difficult to understand these days. This attitude is almost a Horatio Alger story, mirrored in the aura of a "rags to riches" theme that has made a simple act of kindness an out-and-out responsibility of society.

There was a time a half a century ago that most people seem to have forgotten during the rise of welfare to the monster it is today. That time can be recalled by the oldsters. They recollect the days when, if a person was "down on his luck," he could anticipate neighbors giving him a hand until he got on his feet, or the community as a whole pitching in to see that he and his family were fed and clothed.

Generally, the down-and-outer didn't expect permanent aid. In fact, he usually expected nothing, and was grateful for the hand given him during his time of need.

THEN CAME the great depression, and there was too much misery for just neighbors and communities to deal with. Counties ran bread lines, rationed out commodities ,and gave assistance in such other ways as they could.

Still there was a feeling on the part of the recipients that government performed these services as a matter of charity, but already, this approach had started to dim.

As the years passed, the attitude became more and more common that welfare was a "right" rather than a "privilege," and that a recipient was entitled to it whether he deserved it or not.

AND NOW, less than half a century since organized welfare started in this country, the United States Supreme Court has upheld that very peculiar philosophy.

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, calls attention to it in a message to his constituents.

"The court," he said, "has come up with the extraordinary idea that an individual can claim welfare payments as his 'property,' even when his eligibility to receive them is under question.

"The decision holds that a public welfare agency cannot remove anyone from the welfare rolls without first giving him a hearing, with a chance to hire an attorney, and cross-examine witness who might have evidence that he is not eligible for public assistance.

"THIS RULING, I believe, strikes at the very heart of the concept that welfare programs are an instrument of charitable support, and expression through government of our collective concern for the less fortunate. Instead, the recent decision portrays collection of welfare benefits as a right protected by the Constitution.

"It strains credulity that the government's promise of charity expressed in our welfare programs should be considered as property belonging to an individual."

THE SENATOR commented that the decision will add significantly to the already staggering cost of welfare, leading inevitably to an increase in the number of hearings conducted, and require that benefits be paid to recipients of doubtful standing during the period that their cases are under appeal.

Thus, in less than a generation, welfare has worked itself up from rags to riches, with supreme court assurance of its status.

Phony Issue In MMWD Race

Your editorial of last Friday (May 1) brought up the question of "issues and controversies" being lacking in the race for the MMW board and pointed out that possibly the Meadow Club lease might be questioned by the candidates.

Today I read where an MMWD candidate is working up a petition in Mill Valley to shield the lights coming from Mount Tam and the Air Force installation thereon. I ask you, what kind of grandstanding is this? What has it do do with the MMWD? I think there are more important issues for a MMWD candidate to deal with.

I would certainly like to hear from other candidates as to what they think the issues and controversies, if any, are in the race for the MMWD Board.

Letters Urged On Nixon's Action

Many people are both shocked and puzzled by President Nixon's recent military decisions concerning Southeast Asia. In an attempt to obtain further knowledge and better understanding of the situation, the Social Responsiblity Committee of the Marin Fellowship of Unitarians asks all concerned Americans (and all Americans should be concerned) to:

A. Write three letters this week —

1. To Senator Fulbright, asking that he request President Nixon to appear before a series of televised congressional hearings concerning U.S. military involvement in Cambodia and resumption of bombing the north of Vietman;

2. To Senator Cranston, requesting that he gather congressional support for these televised hearings;

3. To President Nixon, expressing our hope that he has enough faith in the American people to present all the facts concerning our involvement in Southeast Asia through a series of televised congressional hearings.

B. Phone at least five friends, asking them to write three such letters and to phone at least five of their friends to write and phone.

Environment Role Radical Notion

There are those more conservative elements in our society who welcome the present concern with the ecological environment as a means of defusing agitation about Vietnam and our failure to solve racial problems. They will regret this.

Implicit in the ecological issue is a radical dissent from modern technological society in its entirety. It is a radical dissent that makes the fuss between capitalism and Marxism appear as only a minor dispute as to how to achieve a goal both find desirable, that is technological progress to serve the needs of mankind.

For to really make a serious effort to avoid disaster through our own wastes, we must become brothers with our fellow forms of life on this planet. Do not subdue nature in the service of man, become integrated with all life. This forbids any massive use of energy for such energy use produces massive amounts of waste. This forbids technology.

This is a radical notion the like of which man has rarely entertained. It is directly counter to the trend of western thought since before Solon. If the intent is to survive, it is necessary, but if the intent is to function as a shuck to calm radical agitation on other issues, it is ill advised.

Aircraft Group Has Marin Chapter

I enjoyed your full page article on the EAA (Experimental Aircraft Association) in your April 27 issue.

There is a minor correction. The 18th annual international EAA convention and fly-in will be located at Oshkosh, Wisc., Aug. 1-7 this year. The previous 17 conventions and fly-ins were held at Rockford, Ill. The change was made necessary because the old location was no longer big enough to handle the growing crowd.

It might be of interest to your readers that there is a local chapter, which draws its membership from Marin and Sonoma counties. Our interest is in sport flying and more specific in home built aircraft. The EAA is open to anyone interested in aviation. We make a special invitation to teenagers as young as 16 years. Anyone who might be interested in the EAA are invited to be a guest at any of our monthly meetings. Interested people may call me for more information. . .

Our chapter (Chapter 124) will have a large display of homebuilt aircraft at the Airport Day open house at Sonoma County Airport, Santa Rosa, May 31.

Nixon-Sato Communique Embarrassing To Tokyo

By ROBERT CRABBE

TOKYO (UPI) — President Nixon's policy of "partnership" with Japan in Asia has put Japan's relations with Communist China under their worst strain in almost a decade.

"That joint communique last autumn is what set the fire," says Yoshimi Furui, a conservative member of parliament. He has just negotiated an extension of Japan's eight-year-old trade pact with the Peking Chinese.

FURUI MEANT the statement issued last Nov. 21 by Nixon and Japan Premiere Eisaku Sato during Sato's visit to Washington.

In it, Nixon approved the return of Okinawa and the Ryukyu Islands to Japan in 1972. In return, Sato said that the safety of both Taiwan (Formosa) and South Korea were essential to Japan.

He strongly hinted that the United States would have full cooperation from the Japanese in keeping both out of Red China's sphere of influence.

The part about Formosa was especially galling to the Chinese Communists. The island is the base of President Chiang Kaishek's Nationalist Chinese government which they drove from the mainland in 1949.

The Sato-Nixon statement was the outward symbol of Japan's shift from mere passive alliance with the United States to active support for American goals in Asia.

Sato has been fostering this since he took office late in 1964. With Washington's blessing, he normalized Japan's relations with her former colony, South Korea. He also injected $500 million worth of Japanese aid and loans into Korea's stumbling economy.

The Japanese premier ordered his country's merchant ships to stay away from North Vietnam after President Johnson's decision to commit the U.S. to the Vietnam war in strength. He paid an official visit to the U.S.-backed government of Nguyen Thieu in Saigon.

The Japanese foreign office works hand-and-glove with the State Department to keep Communist China out of the United Nations.

ALL THIS has not gone unnoticed in Peking. When Furui's trade mission went there in March, the Chinese demanded signatures on an anti-Sato communique as the price of keeping trade alive.

Furui performed the contortion of denouncing his own government's policies, signed, and got the trade agreement renewed. What the Chinese accomplished, aside from venting their anger, is hard to see.

The next day Sato cooly told parliament he was glad the channel to Peking still was open. He also added that the Japanese policy of support for the Nationalist Chinese regime of Taiwan was unchanged.

Brother George Backs Down Brother Bill On Staff Cuts

For the first time in the memory of county officials, the soft-spoken Gnoss brothers found themselves in an eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation at the Civic Center last Tuesday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce had just sprung a surprise paper, asking for drastic cutbacks in county personnel and departments to keep the tax rate from soaring. Among cuts he recommended were two staff members of County Clerk Geroge H. Gnoss. The county clerk, sitting in front of the board of supervisors, saw the paper for the first time and had never even heard of the suggested cutbacks.

Supervisor Bud Baar moved for approval, and just as Supervisor Bill Gnoss seconded the motion, he heard someone yell, "Wait a minute." Supervisor Gnoss looked up, startled.

THERE IN FRONT of him, just three feet away, stood his brother Geroge, with fire in his eyes. County Clerk Gnoss told his brother Bill and other supervisors he'd never seen such a stunt pulled in all his years of county service—lopping off department personnel without any prior consultation with or warning to the department head.

Supervisor Gnoss tried to mollify his brother, but George wouldn't dudge. The supervisors finally relented and decided to thrash out the suggested cutbacks during budget time in June.

Department heads are now talking about having the county clerk scan the supervisors' agendas before each Tuesday meeting so that they won't be caught by surprise by some last minute recommendation from the county administrator.

IN THE HEAT of the June 2 election campaigns, the new memorial auditorium building at the Civic Center is all but forgotten. But Leon Kalimos, director of the auditorium, assures us that the building is still there, and coming along, although a bit slowly.

The date of the auditorium opening nobody seems to know. But Kalimos says he's quite sure it will open within a year. When it does, the building will have a flat floor area of 14,000 square feet, enough to seat a thousand people at one time.

WHEN JUDGE Alvin Goldstein retires from the bench this year, he'll probably go into private law practice somewhere in the county. There's speculation that he will join with the law firm headed by William O. Weissich.

That should make quite a combination. You'll recall the Weissich-Goldstein debates of 1964 when Weissich represented Barry Goldwater and Goldstein championed LBJ.

Mankind Always Cries For Peace, But, Somehow, Never Tries It

"Peace!" the man cried, holding up his fingers in the familiar V sign and waving his pendant, the one with the circle around the chicken track.

"Peace? What's that?"

"Peace, man, like tranquillity."

"Like death, maybe?"

"No, like no war."

"Like no war, or just some wars?"

PEACE, a charming idea being currently hawked with cabalisitc signs and fragrant grass, is a romantic notion having as its mesmeric claim that man's happy state can be found only if p ace exists universally and eternally.

It is the panacea for the world's ill, we're told, and its true believers would gladly fight anyone to the death for it.

Now the other side of peace, as everyone knows, is war—and war, as everyone knows, is nasty business. But then, I'm not too sure that much better can be said of peace.

IT ISN'T that I'm against peace. If it's all its pot-steeped advocates claim it is, I'm for it—I think. It's only that I'm wary of chancing something that's never been tried before. The idea looks great on paper but how do we know the damn thing will fly?

Tell you what you do. Run your finger along the course of man's ragged, tempestuous history and there isn't much likelihood you'll snag your nail on peace. Man has been thumping the drums for peace ever since he first started cracking skulls with his stone axe, and somehow he has, through exemplary determination, succeeded in making sure he doesn't find it.

War, some say, isn't natural to man—yet oddly enough, war and man seem to get together without half trying, like the old story of man and woman. One is supposed to be the pursurer and the other the pursued, but no one's ever figured out just who is doing what to whom. Somehow they manage to get together—for better or for worse—as the population figures so glaringly attest.

TODAY, PEACE is the "in" thing. Sure, it has always enjoyed a certain fascination but should we, through some error in judgement or a stroke of luck, get it, what in thunder would we do with it?

Unless I miss my guess, boredom would quickly set in and, being a naturally mischievous lot, we'd soon be having bootleg wars here and there just to keep our spirits from flagging. We'd start concocting our own bathtub wars, sneaking around distant corners of the globe just to get in a couple of belts. Pompous members of the International Peace Keeping Body would wink slyly at each other as they ask what the boys in the back battlefield will have.

The high-flown rhetoric, so dear to politicians, poets and the peace people is, like any amusing melodrama, applauded by all and taken seriously by none. Should anyone be so naive as to be pulled in by it, the remedy is simple. Let the band strike a lively martial air, then listen to the thumping beat in every man's chest and watch the sparkle in every woman's eyes—even through her tears.

Although the general said, "War is hell," you can bet there'll always be some wahoos around who'll be busing to raise a little of it.

Case For Abortion For 'Decent Life'

I think it perhaps an unwise overgeneralization to label the movement towards making abortion a personal decision as a result of "carrying a misguided zeal too far." It is those that champion the provision of a decent quality of life for the lives brought into this world that, in my opinion, articulate well and intelligently the argument for a humanizing of the abortion laws of our society. They speak of human parameters and social endowments as important in the institution of legal strictures on and about this important issue. Abortion is not a cause; it is not black or white, life or death, hate or love. It is tool of a womans decision to bear life. It is she, and she alone, who, in a doctors council, can know her circumstances and properly make that decision. You cannot.

It is therefore not enough to decry the "killing of the unborn" when it is the same altruist that spouts the word "enemy", object of this destructiveness when marketplace killing in the name of defense is the vogue. We are all blinded by the light of life and as blindmen we stagger speaking of death. We must seek a meaning for life before we profess to know its negative absolute.

Boys' Club Help Is Gratifying

The board of directors of the Marin City Boy's Club would like to thank the many people who made last weekend's youth march and dance such a success. At a time when so much publicity is given to the wrongdoings of our youth, it is gratifying to see these young people pitch in for the benefit of someone else. Channing May of Drake and Carolyn Knox of San Domenico were the two young ladies who gave unselfishly of their time to organize their fellow students for these events. Sunburst Lights, Rock Bottom Sound, Born Again, Captain America, The Buzzards, and Beey Red all donated their time and talents for a great dance.

Again we thank these people and would appreciate your giving them whatever publicity and recognition might be possible.

'Keystone Cop' Raids Resented

In late June of 1969, a raid by law enforcement agencies was made in the houseboat area of Gate 5. The main target was the ferryboat San Rafael which was supposed to be the hiding place for a typewriter used to print threatening letters to contractors who were being asked to bid on demolition work slated for the Gate 5 area. Dynamite and drugs were also sought.

That raid was carried out on the basis of a "tip" from an undisclosed source.

All that was found was a broken down typewriter, the wrong one, which was taken and has not yet been returned.

Last Thursday, April 23, for purposes of building inspection and to serve a contempt citation, the drydocks were boarded. What followed was almost a re-enactment of the San Rafael raid, but this time with every law enforcement agency represented, from the county counsel's office to the Fish and Game department.

Success? A couple of joints and two teen-agers were reported captured. Again, a "tip" from an undisclosed source was the go.

Somebody's got to be kidding! Is our county government unable to function without Keystone raids? . . .

Where Candidate's Money Was Spent

I think I should explain something.

Lest I be accused of being the last of the Big Time Spenders for reporting $1,020 in expenses for the San Anselmo City Council Election, allow me, if I may, to clarify the picture. . .

Actually, I spent only $736 on printed material, advertising, and mailing — the major campaign expenses. And as any astute observer noted, advertising for my campaign was far exceeded by many of my fellow candidates.

So where does the extra $284 come in? Well, we thought it would be a good idea a couple of months ago to kick off the campaign with a get-acquainted party. So we decorated a hall, purchased refreshments, and invited guests to attend on a pay-as-you-go basis. At evening's end, receipts covered the $284 party expense (in fact, we made $6.00).

While I am not suggesting our get-acquainted occasion was not a legitimate expense, I feel that the total reported campaign expense does not reflect the fact that I owe my success in the election to many, many hard working and unselfish people who together fashioned an excellent grassroots campaign for which I am extremely grateful, and of which I will always be very proud.

Fishing Foulup At Lake Lagunitas

On May 2 I took five boys to Lake Lagunitas trout fishing. According to article which appeared in the Independent-Journal this lake was to be heavily planted with trout. After several hours of fishing we found out from a lake patrolman that the lake had not been planted until the afternoon of May 1 and then only about 3,000 compared with 10,000 in years before. The normal procedure is to plant two weeks before the opening of the season.

May 4 I checked with the Department of Fish and Game and the Marin Municipal Water District to ascertain where the foulup had occured. The fish and game blame the water district and vice versa. The only losers are the children who went fishing and the poor suckers who spent $5 for a permit to fish in the lake. From the information I obtained from both sources the water district is completely at fault. I fail to see why fishermen are charged for use of the lands while hikers and picnickers are not charged for this privilege. On the State of California fishing license there are two $1 trout stamps, the funds from the sale of these pay for the rearing and planting of the trout. The water district pays nothing to have these fish planted. I think these two agencies should be able to handle this simple procedure of planting trout so the children of this county can enjoy this recreation.

I call your attention to the coming election of water district directors. Let's have some articles on how these men feel these lands should be utilized so that all the people of the county may use them without any discrimination gainst one or the other.

Spaying Too High? Alter The Males

I have been following with interest Margaret Goodyear's "animal birth control plan." I read in my cat magazine that 25 million cats in this country die each year because they are unwanted.

I know spaying a female cat is quite an operation. However, altering a male cat is a simple operation. Why not concentrate on that and impose a fairly heavy fine for unspayed female cats to be collected along with and at the same time as dog licenses? Then people could keep a male cat as a pet with no heavy expense.

Of course, altering males would not completely control the population. Complete control would not be desirable. We would be overrun with mice if it were not for cats.

During the middle ages great numbers of cats were killed because people believed they had something to do with witchcraft magic. Then the rats increased in population which caused the spread of the bubonic plague.

Along with encouragement of cat control I think there should be more instruction and publicity about the value and care of cats. Possibly, there are many other organizations who would co-operate.

Firemen's Work Pays Off Quickly

This is a letter I wrote to the San Rafael Fire Department. After a second thought, I think personally the whole county should know the good the department is doing. The following is what I wrote: —

Attention: Chief Vance Trivett.

Dear Inspector Bob Romer, Firemen Don Woford and Wayne Kovacs:

This letter is to let you know what a worthwhile job you are doing. You came to our school Don Timoteo on April 9 — at that time you informed the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades (to the best of your knowledge) all about mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and also, any emergency which might arise in the home.

Well, you really did it: I received a phone call from a mother on April 15 (from a very grateful mother I must add) commending your great explanation to the children of what to do in case of emergency. As it happened in this case, the mother had been busy in the back of the house, the baby (14 months old) was in the play pen in the family room (safe she thought). When she came from the back of the house she noticed the youngster was turning blue. She suddenly remembered what her daughter told her a couple of days before. She proceeded instantly to do the right thing and then a marble popped out of his throat. As a fine believer that she is (including me) if your department didn't come out to our school and pass along this information of what to do, which is so desperately needed — well, who knows — it may have been another unfortunate call for the S.R.F.D. So my point of this letter is to keep up the good work, this one phone call did wonders for me.

Hope it has the same "magic" for you.

CAN EIGHT Sleepy Hollow housewives find happiness in clothes designed to be worn in the spirit of "Let The Sun Shine In?" They tried. Mrs. Len Madison, left, adds a giant hoop earring to the bright orange dress she will model tomorrow at the Hidden Valley Intermediate School Parents Club luncheon. Center, Iris Largeaspada, proprietor of one of the boutiques visited, adjusts the scarf of a fake-snake dress worn by Mrs. Ed Majoulet. A little bored with the whole thing is David Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Johnson. His mother was also trying on clothes in three San Anselmo boutiques. Right, Mrs. Maurice Charlat and Mrs. Madison get into the spirit of looking a little more on the hip side than usual.

Housewives In Hip Clothes

Marin Women

Monday, May 11, 1970 Independent-Journal, 13

By BETH GAEDDERT

"It's bra-less and backless!" came a voice through rounds of laughter from the dressing rooms of a San Anselmo boutique.

"Do I dare wear that — thing?" said another.

Sounds of eight Sleepy Hollow housewives trying on hip clothes last week to model in a fashion show tomorrow.

At times more chaotic than a group of their teen-age daughters probably would be on a shopping trip to San Francisco, the young mothers spent about four hours selecting two outfits each from three boutiques.

"It's too short for you — for one thing," said Sidney Halladay, one shop proprietor prodding one of the few truthful opinions of the day.

"Now all I need is my motorcycle," said one petite cheerleader-type who kept looking for a pair of white plastic boots to go with the white stitching on the navy wet-look jacket and skirt. (Sidnew suggested navy, saying, "White boots. . .no, no, navy would look better.")

"How about this dress. That's real patriotic. Spiro Agnew might even approve of that," said a voice from behind a rack.

"I really do think we should have music during the show. Oh we are? A rock band? What band?"

"Ofoedian Den."

"Who?"

"YOU MEAN we have to walk to rock? Could you see me walking. . ." one said doing her imitation of dancing while modeling.

The models, chosen "carefully, very carefully" from among the ranks of the Hidden Valley Intermediate School Parents Club, admired themselves in the clothes although the temptation to draw the neckline draw strings as tight as possible came to more than one of the women who all pulled at the back of the dresses when reaching for another on a high rack.

"Oh, I don't want to show that in the show! That's an old style," reprimanded Iris Largeaspada, another shop owner. The woman wearing the sheer print blouse and matching knife-pleated floor length culottes looked down, shrugged her shoulders and repeated to the woman standing next to her, "This is an old style."

The women, who had gone without lunch, were getting hungrier and the clothes were getting hipper as they visited the third boutique which has a few hand made garments.

"Don't you laugh at me." More laughter from behind the curtains.

"It must be on backwards."

"You are going to wear that backless. . ."

ONE OF the women nodded a reluctant 'yes", her blonde French twist slightly askew. "Somebody give me a drink that day," she laughed clutching the purple jersey dress. "Eight!"

"We'll give you lots of champagne," the others reassured her.

An occasional "You were right. There is something in this store I can wear," was heard.

And then the women put back on their mid-knee-to-a-few-inches-above skirts and left to pick up the kids from school.

The fashion show is part of the parents club's "Let The Sun Shine In" luncheon to be held tomorrow at Alexander Hall of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo starting at 11:30 a.m. — with champagne.

"I THINK I'll borrow my daughter's navy blue clogs," said Mrs. Paul Ricciardi surveying her Dutch look. The pantaloon-knicker look is a new one for fall although chances are Mrs. Ricciardi won't show up at a parents club meeting in this particular number. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

MRS. ROBERT Whitermore found a rather Victorian-looking maxi among the "far-out" clothes to choose from.

Look For Freckles In Old Age

Although freckles are commonly thought of as the blight of youngsters, these blemishes often show up for the first time in older persons. They are not dangerous, says the California Medical Association, but they should be watched carefully.

The freckles of old age are slow-growing lesions which may take several forms. One type, seborrheic Keratosis, tends to run in families and its cause is not known. It is a small, raised, brownish, wart-like growth which is frequently covered by a greasy scale. These lesions are most likely to be seen on the scalp, face and trunk, and they sometimes cause itching.

Unless this type of keratosis is embarrassingly unsightly or is constantly irritated by shaving, combing your hair, or friction from your clothing, there is no need to do anything about it, according to the CMA. However, unlike warts, these lesions do not disappear spontaneously. If your doctor decides that it is wise to remove yours, it can be done by a number of methods: by freezing, by electrical treatment, or by use of chemical agents. These procedures do not usually leave visible scars.

The other type of old-age freckles, known variously as senile lentigines, senile freckles, or liver spots are flat spots, ranging in color from yellowish brown to black. They are larger

Dissenters Are Acting On Parent's Moral Convictions

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A student health service psychoanalyst said Friday many student dissenters are only doing what their parents told them.

"Many apparently rebellious college youths are acting on deeply felt moral convictions which were learned from their parents," said Dr. Robert Michatls. "Their behavior often reflects obedience far more than defiance."

Michaels addressed the American Psychoanalytic Association.

An attending psychiatrist at the Columbia University Student Health Service since 1964, he said if the parents did not live up to their own moral precepts, it was because of their difficulties in making a living, which taught them to accept defeat.

"The parents did not have the luxury of being able to worry about ethics," he said.

Young white collegians have no constant concern about getting and holding a job, and so they are free to concern themselves with other issues, Michaels said.

He warned that student rebellion provides a vehicle for pathologically ill youths to discharge their conflicts, and more and more students of this kind are appearing.

But he said while dissent can be such a vehicle, that does not make all dissidents pathological.

He rejected the notion that student rebellion results from "permissiveness" popular some years ago among parents.

"If we examine history, we see it all began with the effective dissent of black students who never knew permissiveness in their homes."

He also noted that permissiveness has never been popular among European and Japanese families, whose youth are just as rebellious as Americans.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Learned Her Lesson But Is Still Grounded For Two Months

DEAR HELEN:

I am 14, and I want a whipping. Before you drop dead, let me explain.

My girl friend and I ditched school, stole some cigarettes and — of course — got caught. Mary's father gave her a hard spanking. She said it hurt, but in about 10 minutes it was all over.

My parents don't believe in corporal punishment, so I got grounded for two months. I missed a big party and my folks won't hardly speak to me. No TV, telephone, dates, nothing.

Both Mary and I have learned our lesson. We don't intend to cheat again. But I think her punishment is best. Mine is almost more than I can stand.

What do other kids think? — OVER-PUNISHED SUE

DEAR SUE:

I'm glad you didn't ask my opinion, because I'd have to say I think your punishment was a bit much — which would not set well with your parents and, after all, they're in charge here, not me.

We'll be waiting to hear other teens' comments on your question. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was so glad to read "Mr. Lonelyhearts" letter. It made me realize I'm not the only one who is always a listener, never a dater.

I'm an average-looking teenage girl, interested in sports, easy to talk to. That's the trouble: The guys talk to me about their problems, but ask the other girls out.

Even to my girl friends, I'm a junior "Dear Helen." And I'm a sister to half the boys in my class.

DEAR M:

You and Mr. Lonelyhearts live in the same town — you might even attend the same school. Look around and see if your can spot him. It could be the beginning of a beautiful friendship. (And even if you don't find the original Mr. L., the fact that you're looking instead of listening will help to break the image.) — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am stationed aboard a ship outside of Japan. My parents send me newspapers from home, so I know what's going on, and I worry about the drug scene. Maybe I worry more than folks do at home, because I see how many servicemen are using. When they bring back their habits, the U.S. may be in real trouble.

Over half the men on my ship take some kind of illegal drug. In our port there is a Mine Sweeper Coastal that carries a crew of 60 men. It can't even leave port because all but the captain and one officer are under suspicion of using narcotics.

A friend on a destroyer told me about a guy who wandered around in a drug daze and finally walked off the side of the ship and drowned. How do you write to parents and tell them their only son died from taking narcotics?

I really pray you print this letter. Maybe it will open people's eyes to what's going on, and then they might unite and do something about the problem that is endangering a whole generation. — W. J., FPO, SAN FRANCISCO.

Santa Venetia Nuptials Unite Karen Nichols And Bruce Lloyd

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE J. LLOYD

(Klepsch photo)

Karen Lynn Nichols and Bruce John Lloyd were married May 2 in a ceremony at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Paul Nichols of Santa Venetia are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lloyd of San Francisco.

Mrs. Deborah Kearns was her sister's matron of honor, and Bruce's sister, Linda Lloyd, was a bridesmaid. Other bridesmaids were Diane Caprini and Robin McClean.

Best man was Albert Herrera, and guests were ushered to their seats by Paul Pastino Petar Zegiera and John Schmidt.

A reception at Deer Park Villa restaurant in Fairfax followed the ceremony. The couple will live in San Francisco following a wedding trip to Berkeley.

Karen is a graduate of St. Paul's High School in San Francisco and attended City College of San Francisco. She is employed by Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. in San Francisco. Theodore Nichols is her brother, and her local grandmother is Mrs. Signe Miller of San Francisco.

A graduate of George Washington High School in San Francisco, Bruce also attended City College. He is employed by Sears Roebuck and Co. in San Francisco. Mrs. Gertrude Lloyd of San Francisco is his grandmother.

FRECKLES

and darker than the freckles of childhood and they do not fade in the winter. The term "liver spots", though it is commonly used, is misleading. The blemish has nothing whatever to do with the liver nor does it signify any internal disease.

These senile freckles are usually concentrated on the face, the neck, and the back of the hands, and they are caused by years of exposure to sun and wind.

The important consideration about senile lentigines is that they should be interpreted as a warning signal. They mean that your skin has been exposed to as much sun as it can take. You should protect it from further irritation. Shade yourself when you are in the sun. Avoid prolonged exposure, and if this is not possible use special preparations on your skin which will filter out the rays which are most damaging to your skin.

Although these freckles of old age are not themselves precancerous, the same overexposure to sun which causes them can also cause skin cancer in the same areas. If a spot that at first seems to be just another freckle later thickens and develops a hard surface which feels like sandpaper, you should have a doctor examine it.

Being alert to changes in skin conditions applies not only to old-age freckles but to any blemish or growth on your skin. If after months or years of being no trouble at all, it suddenly starts itching or burning, becomes inflamed, bleeds or gives off any other type of discharge, changes color, or grows rapidly — you should see a doctor.

Mrs. Dale Robertson New Chapter President

Mrs. Dale E. Robertson, new president of Xi Alpha Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, has been a member of the organization since 1955 when she joined in West Virginia.

She and her husband, a retired U. S. Army recruiter, have lived in Marin since 1966. They came from Orleans, France, where he was stationed. Originally from Virginia, Beatrice Robertson was educated in Virginia and West Virginia. She is now employed by the accounting firm of Hellman, Hellman, Pierce and Co. in San Rafael.

MRS. DALE ROBERTSON

Among her interests are gardening, music and sports.

Highway Bureau Has Booklet On The Safety Of 1970 Cars

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — They said it couldn't be done.

When the National Highway Safety Bureau recently published a 300-page book, "Performance Data for New Passenger Cars and Motorcycles," some people thought that it would finally make it easy to compare the relative safety of 1970 cars.

After they looked at the book, they changed their minds and decided such a task would be virtually impossible. For, as a previous column pointed out, comparable models are not listed together, and the three major safety factors for each model are listed in three separate sections of the publication.

The book symbolizes the utter frustration that comes so often when the Federal Government attempts to give the public some of the vast storehouse of useful buying information that accululates in agency files.

Whether the information was published in such a way deliberately may never be known. But there can be no doubt that somewhere within the pages are details that could help a prospective auto buyer compare the safety and efficiency of 1970 cars and motorcycles in some key respects.

The three factors are: pickup power, braking efficiency and the reserve load-carrying capacity of recommended tires.

Not many consumers would spend a day with such a mass of statistics. But I did. And some of the results are revealing.

For example, among cars representing the four largest manufacturers in the standard six and eight-cylinder four-door sedans, the American Motors cars appeared to be the best in pickup and acceleration.

But in ability to stop quickly from a speed of 60 miles per

Among the super and intermediate eights, Ford products showed the best pickup ability in both of the prescribed conditions: first, from 20 to 35 miles per hour, second, from 50 to 80 mph. Again, Chrysler cars were best in braking ability.

Among super sports compacts with eight cylinders and two doors, Ford products had the best pickup at the low speed condition, while Chrysler products looked best at higher speeds. And again, the latter looked better in braking performance.

General Motors cars placed in the middle of most categories for pickup and braking. They were consistently superior in only one test: the ability to stop a fully loaded car using only the emergency brake in case the foot brake failed.

Among 10 foreign compact sedans, the Saab 96-V4 showed the best pickup at low speeds, followed closely by the British Leyland Midget and Renault 1152, but the Alfa Romeo 1750GT Veloce was best in accelerating from 50 to 80 mph. Volkswagen was slowest in both tests, but among the best in braking ability.

For a list of 38 models selected from the book in eight groups showing tire safety margins, pickup ability at two speed conditions and braking under three conditions, send a stamped and addressed envelope to Consumer Auto Data, 1023 National Press Bldg., Washington, D.C., 20004.

ON THE AGENDA

Wednesday Is Market Day At Marin Art And Garden Center

The Northgate Group of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross will hold its annual Market Day on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the center grounds. According to Mrs. James Egger, president of the group, this public event will have the color and variety of an oriental bazaar. Reminiscent of the Far East will be the bamboo and colored fish used in the decorations, along with paper lanterns and posters calling attention to the charms of the Orient.

Chairmen of the booths are Mmes. George Geramoni, bakery; H.A. Collins, books; Harry Orrick III, farm hands; Frederick Dietrich, flower cart; Ralph Alden and Richard Mayer, gourmet booth; E. Michael Young, hats; Jack Murray and Francis Auger, jewelry; John Cummings and Harold MacKenzie, plants; Lloyd Richards and Robert Berry, sewing center; Henry Eddy, silent auction; George Goheen, take-a-chance; David Zec, toys and games; Thomas Nelson, whimsies; J. Boatner Chamberlain and J. Ralph Martindale, white elephant; and Charles Whitehead, paper goods.

Chairmen of the food booths are Mmes. Robert Lee, coffee bar; Robert Pendergrass, ice cream; William Doggett and Frank Brown, lunch; and Henry Skinner, snack bar. In addition, Mrs. Harvie Freed is in charge of the check stand, and Mrs. Jackson Bennett will tell fortunes. Mrs. George Herrero is publicity chairman.

A SPRING concert will be presented by the Hill Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, in the Hill auditorium in Novato featuring the school's music department.

Vincent Pebbles will conduct the cadet band, chorus and concert "A" band and Dick Dement will conduct the orchestra.

FASHIONS ALFRESCO is the theme of the annual spring fashion-luncheon sponsored by San Domenico, Dominican Convent Alumnae Council and Service League to be held Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. on the patio of the San Domenico School in San Anselmo.

Fashions will be modeled by members of the Marin Mannequin League and 51 San Domenico students. Box lunches will be served at umbrella tables.

THE SLEEPY Hollow Nursery School will hold its annual open house on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to noon. All prospective members and their children are invited to attend. For transportation or further information, contact Mrs. Karen Nagel of 18 Martling Drive in San Anselmo.

Children two years and nine months to pre-kindergarten age, both resident and nonresident, are eligible for enrollment.

THE ANNUAL installation luncheon of Sausalito's Star of the Sea Church Women's Guild will be held Wednesday at noon at the church. Mrs. Joseph De Martini is the new president who will succeed Mrs. D. Power Boothe.

Mrs. Donald Olsen is luncheon chairman. Other chairmen are Mmes. Michael Graham, decorations; and Percy, reservations.

A "GARDEN of Friendship" will be the theme tomorrow evening when Tamal Rebekah Lodge 393 of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will honor Mrs. Louzella Peterson, district deputy president, District 61, at 8 p.m. in Odd Fellows Temple, San Rafael.

Mrs. Peterson, who is from Sonoma, will be accompanied by her marshal, Mrs. Lillian Mathias of San Anselmo. This will be Mrs. Peterson's last official visit as district deputy president before attending the Rebekah Assembly of California next week in San Jose.

Mmes. Peterson and Mathias are members of Tamal Rebekah Lodge and past noble grands. Mrs. Peterson holds the office of recording secretary.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, refreshment chairman, will be assisted by Mmes. Francis Keelan, Helen Mojzer and Ann Robison. Mrs. Edward Willey is the decoration chairman.

Attending the final visit of Mrs. Peterson will be members of Rebekah lodges from Mill Valley, Sebastopol, Petaluma and San Rafael.

THE SAN ANSELMO Cooperative Nursery School will hold its annual open house from 10 a.m. to noon on Wednesday at the school at 24 Myrtle Lane in San Anselmo.

This event offers mothers of pre-school children an opportunity to explore the school and register for the fall semester if they wish. The children who regularly attend will not be present, leaving the facilities free for visiting youngsters to enjoy.

Directors Mrs. Don Falkenberg and Mrs. Edward Buettner, along with participating mothers, will be present to answer questions and demonstrate techniques.

Sponsored by College of Marin, San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School is open to children from any Marin County community. A limited scholarship program is offered.

Chairman of this event is Mrs. Robert Sandusky.

SECOND IN the public series titled "The Drug Scene — 1970, Where We're At and Where We're Going" will be held at the Lagunitas School in San Geronimo on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the schools multi-purpose room.

The subject of this meeting will be "Drug Abuse: Cause, Effect, Cure (?)" to be discussed by Dr. Robert Day, dean of the University of California Medical School, School of Pharmacy, assisted by three senior pharmacy students specializing in drug abuse research at Haight-Ashbury and other locations.

These meetings are sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Lions Club, Parent-Teatcher Association, Lagunitas School District and Marin County Superintendent of schools.

Mrs. Koch Is New President

Mrs. Richard M. Koch, president of the Novato Branch, Needlework Guild of America, served as secretary for the past three years and has been a member for four years.

The guild members sew garments for patients at Sonoma State Hospital, St. Vincent's School for Boys, the American Red Cross and any needy family or persons in need.

Anyone wishing to join the organization must donate two new garments each year. The garments are made mostly from donations and scraps of material are used for making wheel chair robes.

Hope Koch and her husband, an employee in the service department of the Emporium in San Francisco, have lived in Marin County six years. She was born in Ingersoll, Okla., but has spent most of her life in California. She is also active in All Faith Lutheran Church in Novato and her hobbies are sewing and knitting.

Jill Wigell Is New Stewardess

Jill Wigell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Wigell of Kentfield has received wings from Trans International Airlines and will be based at Oakland International Airport. She is a graduate of California Polytechnic College.

Dress For Trips

When dressing for an automobile trip, consider comfort and as little clutter as possible. Choose clothes that are easy to sit in but which are right for lunch or sightseeing. Pants are most comfortable if you are on a long trip.

BRANSON HEADMASTER RETURNS

Katherine Fleming Branson, first headmaster of the Katharine Branson School, returned to her namesake this weekend along with many former students to celebrate the school's golden anniversary. "I feel very privileged to see the 50th anniversary," Miss Branson commented, "Now I'm looking forward to the 75th." She served as headmaster from the school's start in 1920 until her retirement in 1951. She now lives in Carmel, but says she visits the girl's school as often as possible. Student Chamber Concert Example Of Good Practice

Yesterday afternoon's chamber music concert at the Mill Valley Public Library presented by young musicians in the San Francisco Conservatory of Music's strings scholarship program for high school students was another example of how more people can be reached by taking music to them in unusual places.

No more attractive setting than the beautiful new library in old Mill Park could be chosen for chamber music, which is so adaptable for smaller and less formal audiences.

The purpose of the concert, however, apparently was to give the students the opportunity to practice their art. The conservatory is to be commended for encouraging the development of strings players, since they are the backbone of orchestras and in short supply.

The program opened with the Beethoven String Quartet Opus 18, No. 3 performed by David Jacobson, violin; Carolyn Dunn, second violin; Alison Dunn, viola; and Dan Greenspan, cello. Jacobson was outstanding for his involvement and assurance, and the cello was a little soft.

In the second number, the Beethoven Piano Trio No. 5 in D Major, substitution of an instructor, Ross Shib, in the violin part was necessary in the absence of Peter Maunu, and this perhaps affected the ensemble, but pianist Madeline Bloom and cellist Mary True played well with the piano dominant and the cellot again soft.

In the Beethoven Trio Opus 11, in B Flat Major performed by Dorian Ho, piano; Joanne Jacovides, violin; and Greenspan, cello, all were technically skilled, but the same situation prevailed with the piano strong and cello soft.

It should be noted that the soft sound of the cello makes it more difficult for the less experienced to bring it into balance with violin and piano.

The finale, Brahms Piano Trio, Opus 8, in B Major, was performed with much verve and style by Don Wetzel, piano; Mark Jordan, violin; and Mannfried Funk, cello.

The group for the most part had excellent intonation.

Other students in the program will give another concert next Sunday at 1:30 p.m at the library. MPS

Comedy Review To Run Saturday

An original comedy review, "Masksarfony" will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday by the teen drama department of the Marin Jewish Community Center.

The performance will be at the center, 200 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

Among the cast of the show, which will include sketches, songs and dance, are Sherril Perlin of Corte Madera, Ben Guardiola of Mill Valley, David Wagner of Novato, Joyce Schriebman of Fairfax, Michael Blumberg of San Anselmo, Wila Eskenazi, David Melnick, and Diane Norgaard, all of San Rafael.

Muskie To Ask For Withdrawal

WATERVILLE, Maine (UPI) —Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a potential candidate for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, says he will introduce a resolution in the U.S. Senate today committing the government to withdrawing all American troops from Indochina within 18 months.

In addition, the Muskie resolution would call for an immediate ceasefire in Indochina, a withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia, and a strengthening of the U.S. delegation at the Paris talks.

Muskie, in a speech to some 4,000 students at an antiwar rally on the Colby College campus Sunday, said his resolution would encourage a Southeast Asian conference and a pledge of aid to repair the "damage of war."

Vehicle Bids To Be Opened

Bids for the sale of 10 vehicles to the Marin Muncipal Water District will be opened Wednesday by the district's board at its meeting at 1:30 p.m.

The board will also discuss plans and specifications for the first stage of relocation of water mains in conjunction with the next phase of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

The purchaes of fire hydrant materials, some valves and an oxygen meter are also on the agenda.

Several contracts, agreements and reports are scheduled to be discussed.

MUSIC REVIEW

All-Beethoven Program Ends Three-Concert Marin Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Josef Krips and the San Francisco Symphony closed the three-concert Marin series Saturday night at Terra Linda High School gymnasium with a brilliant performance of an all-Beethoven program that showed why the maestro is a master interpreter of the composer.

To the great satisfaction of those seated on the floor this time, the orchestra was on risers, and acclaim was enthusiastic. Response to the series in attendance — around 1,800 for the first and last concerts and somewhat less for the second — proves that there is great appreciation and big demand for symphonic music in Marin.

Alas, facilities are lacking for music lovers to hear what the sound of an orchestra of this caliber can really be. Acoustics were clear but did not permit full resonance.

Investigation determined that the lack of a stage or risers in the first two concerts was due to prohibitive expense of providing them under temporary conditions. School claims on gyms must come first.

Somehow a way must be found to complete the Veterans Memorial Auditorum so that important performing groups like the San Francisco and Marin symphonies can be heard properly by large audiences.

Major work of the evening was the Symphony No. 3 in E flat major (Eroica). But the Concerto No. 1 C major, featuring 20-year-old Patricia Michaelian as soloist and centering interest around her rather than the orchestra, was outstanding because of her artistry.

She played with a maturity of concept remarkable for one so young. While this concerto is considered a virtuoso piece, the young musician did not exploit it as a show piece but emphasized always its true musical values.

In the first and last allegro movements her runs and trills were liquid silver at forte and liquid moonlight at pianissimo. She achieved a beautiful singing legato more by control of touch than use of pedal, and in the largo single notes were clear as bell tones.

Krips handled the orchestra so that vitality of rhythm was notable throughout the performance.

The reading of the Eroica was one in which every detail was worked out impecabbly. It undoubtedly benefited from the several previous performances in San Francisco so that its enormous range of thought, form and dramatic emotion were perfectly fused.

The scherzo with its elfin lightness and wit was a welcome contrast to the elemental power of the heavier and more sombre movements of this heroic work. The woodwinds were especially good in the second movement and the brasses outstanding in the finale.

Shakespeare Festival Auditions Slated

Auditions for the Marin Shakespears Festival's tenth anniversary season will be Sunday May 24 from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Forest Meadows Theater at Dominican College in San Rafael.

Those wishing to audition are asked to prepare a speech of 20 to 30 lines from one of the three plays that will be presented during the coming season — "The Tempest," Taming of the Shrew" or "Henry V."

'Candidates' Fair' For Judge Contest

The Central Marin League of Women Voters will sponsor a "candidates' fair" for the 12 contestants for Marin Municipal Court judge at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Marin Catholic High School gymnasium.

The event will not be the usual candidates' night sponsored by the league, but rather contestants will set up campaign booths and talk to voters.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Joe Egg' Doesn't Have Many Faults

By GARY TISCHLER

There is something about the Peter Nichols play, "Joe Egg," which opened at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts this weekend, which makes you want to ask just what is wrong with it. The answer is not very much.

Oh, some of the performances might have been a little bit tighter and less rambling, those three giant cardboard paintings probably shouldn't have so dominated the set like a living-room Mount Rushmore and the ending arrived rather suddenly and meekly, but the main problem, if that's what you want to call it, is that "Joe Egg" is simply not a very nice cup of tea. It is more like vinegar on toast, salt in your hot chocolate. It refuses to let you be at all comfortable.

Ostensibly, the play is about a couple's relation to their retarded, vegetable-like child, Josephine. But the child is more like a corpse presiding over another twitching body — in this case a marriage going scathingly and painfully down the tubes.

Certainly the child has a lot to do with the state of affairs but the problems are also ingrown in Brian, the husband a frustrated painter turned teacher, talented, rather wild, sulky and self-pitying, forever playing games and pushing himself into leaving.

"She embraces all living things upset me," he whines to the audience, a latter-day angry young man with all the wind knocked out of him. Albert Cingalini takes the Albert Finney part and make it his own — mocking, whinning, a charming man full of sick jokes and creative paralysis. Phyllis Courtney is his wife Sheila, in an obviously carefully thought-out performance. Veteran Mel Berman is back as Freddie, a rich socialist do-gooder who can afford to be, earnest to the point of exasperation, while Rita Knox does a beautiful raised eyebrow bit as Freddie's wife Pam, a woman who would probably cheerfully endorse genocide if it were done cleanly. Jessie Diffley is at once touching and absurd as Brian's mother Grace, sniffling and sniffing about the weather, both the emotional winds and the snow outside. And Dea Belrose is Joe, the center of the storm, who doesn't have much to say except to be alive.

The play, after a while, becomes sort of a sick-joke Virginia Woolf. It is often moving, sometimes scathing, and always interesting. I wouldn't recommend it for the Mary Martin fans, but if you don't mind being attacked a little, head and heart-wise, then go, by all means.

PEACEFULLY PACING FOR PEACE

Peace marchers stroll solemnly past Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley on their way to Old Mill Park. About 300 marchers moved along the sunny street to the park Saturday, but the march and the ensuing speeches were definitely downbeat compared to activities in the rest of the country. Low key speeches by teachers, students and others involved in the anti-war movement in Marin County received quiet approval from the children, teen-agers and middle-aged housewives who gathered on wooden benches under the trees in the park to hear speakers demand immediate withdrawal from Southeast Asia. Kentfield Couple Killed In Crash

A Kentfield couple, leaving on an Illinois vacation, were killed Saturday when their auto left the Sears Point Road between the Sonoma Creek Bridge and Skaggs Island Road, in Solano County, and plunged into a canal at the side of the road.

Ralph E. Ellis, 61, and his wife, Catherine, 57, were both dead by the time authorities arrived.

Another motorist pulled Mrs. Ellis's body from the car, but her husband's body could not be removed until the car was pulled out of the water.

An autopsy was geing performed to determine the cause of death.

The couple had just left their home at 1135 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, on their way to visit Ellis's mother in Galesburg, Ill., when the accident occurred about 6 a.m., the California Highway Patrol said.

They had lived in Kentfield about 10 months, but Mrs. Ellis had lived in Marin for many years previously.

Ellis was a deputy sheriff in San Francisco for 18 years. In addition to his mother, Elizabeth Ellis, he is survived by the couple's son, Warren J. Ellis of San Bruno. Mrs. Ellis is also survived by a brother, Joseph J. Wright, and two sisters, Ethel M. Wright and Helen M. O'Sullivan.

Funeral will be Wednesday at 11 a.m. at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills San Anselmo. Interment will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Vandals Hit School, Hall Restaurant

Vandals hit a school, scout hall, bar and restaurant Friday and Saturday, San Rafael police reported today.

A $25 window was smashed and a beer storer and ice machine cutters damaged, causing a total of $80 damage Saturday in the patio of the Funny Farm, 813 Fourth Street.

A window near the door of Room 803 at Terra Linda High School was smashed between 11:30 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday.

Vandals smashed a window between 6 p.m. Friday and 2:15 a.m. Saturday at Neptune's Fish and Chips, 175 Belvedere Street, police reported. Nothing was missing from the restaurant.

A window at the Boy Scouts of America Hall, 733 A Street, was smashed Saturday around 2 a.m.

Zunino Sets Coffees In Judge Campaign

Four campaign coffees have been scheduled for Ernest C. Zunino, candidate for the Marin Municipal court judgeship being vacated by Alvin H. Goldstein Jr.

'Mousetrap' To Premier On Friday

Festival Theater's "Better Mousetrap," whose opening Friday was canceled, will have its premier performance next Friday at 8:30 p.m. at the theater in San Anselmo.

Elizabeth Berryhill, writer and producer of the combination play and cheesehouse, said last weekend's performances were canceled as inappropriate to the mood of concern over the Indochina situation that had swept Marin as well as the entire country. "There seemed to be widespread feeling that the weekend should be given to contemplation," she said.

About 100 persons were turned away, though the Festival Theater troupe had tried to phone all those with reservations for Friday and Saturday performances, she said.

Starting this week and continuing through June 7, there will be performances at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and at 7:30 p.m. Sundays.

Stolen Car Is Found Stripped

An orange 1963 two-door Plymouth, stolen Friday or Saturday from outside the home of owner Keith N. Caslake at 410 D Street, was found stripped yesterday at the bottom of a cliff, San Rafael police reported today.

A witness told police he had seen the car at 5:05 p.m. at the bottom of the cliff north of San Pedro Road and Biscayne Drive. Juveniles were stripping the auto, the man told police.

Two other stripped cars were found nearby, police said.

On this day in history:

In 1963 Birmingham, Ala., home Rev. A.D. King, brother of Martin Luther King Jr., was bombed.

A thought for the day: American statesman Benjamin Franklin said: "Experience is a dear school, but fools will learn in no other."

San Franciscans Want Ceasefire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A poll conducted by members of the University of California Medical Center indicate at least 70 per cent of all San Franciscans would approve a U.S. initiated Vietnam ceasefire.

Results of the pool, released Sunday, also show the same persons would approve a United Nations supervised Vietnam election with all parties abiding by the outcome.

The poll was conducted by a UCSF-led team of social Scientists, and psychologists headed by Dr. Paul Ekman, associate professor of medical psychology, in a random sample telephone survey of 500 city residents.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A Thoughtless Play May Cause High Pollution Count

"The automobile is not guilty of all the pollution in the world, Watson," said Sherlock Holmes as the two friends left the Baker Street Bridge Club recently. "All the perfumes of Arabia will not sweeten that little hand we just watched."

Opening lead — ◇ K

HIGH DIAMOND

West led the king of diamonds, and East signaled enthusiastically with the queen. South ruffed, drew two rounds of trumps and led the queen of spades for a finesse, losing to the king.

East returned a spade to the ace, and declarer eventually took a heart finesse and wound up losing two heart tricks as well as the spade trick. South was brightly claiming 150 honors as Holmes dragged Dr. Watson away from the table.

"I don't see what perfume has to do with it," Watson expostulated as they reached their Baker Street rooms. "I've often lost two finesses in the same hand without feeling that I've polluted the atmosphere."

IMPOSSIBLE FINESSE

"It was impossible for the opening leader to have the king of spades," the great detective pointed out. "The first trick showed that he had the ace and king of diamonds, and he later showed up with only one club. How could he also have the king of spades without opening his mouth after the opening bid of one club?"

The correct play is easy to see once we read the clues correctly. After drawing two rounds of trumps declarer must lead a low spade to the ace and return the low spade from dummy.

MUST TAKE KING

East must take the king or lose his spade trick. But then South's queen and jack are good, and he can discard two hearts from the dummy to limit the heart loss to one trick.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♥- 10 9 7
♦- A K 9 7 4
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

The hand is not quite strong enough for a response of two diamonds and a later heart raise. You have maximum values for a raise to two hearts; if partner makes a try for game you will accept his invitation.

Poor Will Launch Indochina Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Southern Christian Leadership Conference plans to launche a letter-writing and petition campaign against the Indochina War, according to Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

"From here on out, the poor, those who suffer most from our society's mad involvement in Indochina, will no longer sit silently by while the conflict continues," McGovern said.

★ONE OF A KIND★
Would you like one of the most beautiful and dramatic sites in California with a home especially designed for this magnificent site? At the very top of the Inverness ridge, adjoining the national seashore, and looking down at the beach and the Pacific ocean. The park like setting is absolutely breathtaking, and is probably one of the most beautiful sites in all of the Pt. Reyes peninsula. The home itself features 2 stone fireplaces, 2 baths, extra large living room, a study, and an all purpose room with a large adjoining deck. Large elevations of glass, combined with natural wood and stone, complete this magnificent setting. Don't miss the opportunity of seeing this very rare and one of a kind property. $69,500.

SECTION 1. To administer the State, County and District fire laws, rules, regulations and ordinances there is hereby created in the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District a department to be known as the Stinson Beach Volunteer Fire Department.

SECTION 2. It is hereby declared to be the public policy of the Stinson Beach Fire Portection District to prevent waste of public funds and resources, and menace to life and property by requiring that fire burning uncontrolled upon lands within this District be extinguished or controlled.

The Stinson Beach Volunteer Fire Department and the Fire Commissioners shall have administrative jurisdiction for the control and prevention of fire on all lands within this District.

SECTION 3. If no representative of the property owner or management is present, or if such owner or management is not taking proper and skillful measures to extinguish or control any uncontrolled fire as defined by Sec. 4164 of the Public Resources Code of California, any member of the Stinson Beach Volunteer Fire Department or any Fire Commissioner may take charge and direct control activity thereof.

SECTION 4. The Stinson Beach Volunteer Fire Department shall be administered by a fit and proper person to be known as the Chief of the Department who shall be appointed by, and serve at the pleasure of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

Legal Notice

(a) He shall direct and supervise the members of the Department in the methods and manner of performing the duties imposed upon the Department by law and by administrative policies of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

(b) He shall report to the Board of Fire Commissioners at such times as they may require on all phases of the activities of the Department.

(c) He shall collect data relating to fire occurrence and causes, fire hazards created by land use, expense incurred by the District in extinguishing or controlling fires, acreages of lands burned and estimate of loss or damage occurring from fires.

(d) He shall keep records and make reports as may be required by the Board or any fire control agency with whom the Board may have an agreement of contract.

(e) He shall provide for training of Department members, modern methods of fire control and prevention.

(f) He shall take charge and be responsible for the care and maintenance of all property and equipment of the department.

SECTION 5. Additional Officers of the Department shall include a First Assistant Chief, a Second Assistant Chief and a Third Assistant Chief who shall be appointed by, and serve at the pleasure of the Board of Fire Commissioners. Their duties shall be to follow out the instructions of the Chief and shall assist him in performing the duties imposed upon him and act for him in his absence.

The Board of Fire Commissioners may create and abolish such other Offices as may be deemed advisable from time to time and shall appoint the Officers therefor, who shall serve at the pleasure of the Board.

SECTION 6. It shall be unlawful for any person to do any of the following acts in the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District:

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to interfere with or obstruct any fire organization or its members while in the lawful discharge of its or their duties under this ordinance pertaining to the prevention and control of fires.

(b) It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to drive over or across any fire hose when the same is in use by the fire department, unless such act is done under the direction of a Fire Officer.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person to park any automobile or other vehicle in, along, or upon any streets or highway within one thousand feet of any building or other property being burned by an uncontrolled fire; except that this provision shall not apply to vehicles of police or fire officers.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any unauthorized person to tamper with, impair, take away, remove, or destroy any portion of the fire alarm system or fire-fighting equipment without consent of a duly authorized Fire Offcier.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any person to set a backfire without permission of a fire control officer, and a backfire shall be set only from an established cleared fire control line when the fire it is sought to stop is so close that it is reasonably certain that there is no human life between the oncoming fire and the backfire.

(f) It shall be unlawful for any person to drive or operate any vehicle or machine of any kind capable of emitting sparks or flame, upon or over roads adjoining land covered with combustible vegetation without an adequate tight fitting spark or flame arresting device.

(g) It shall be unlawful for any person to discharge fire arms or otherwise endanger the lives of fire fighters in any area where fire is burning.

(h) It shall be unlawful for any person to maintain, allow to be maintained, or allow to exist on lands owned or controlled by him, any trash, debris or garbage piled or otherwise placed upon the ground or incinerators or other containers without having all combustible vegetation cleared from around such trash, debris or garbage for a width adequate to prevent fire of spontaneous origin from spreading therefrom to adjacent vegetation or combustible material.

(i) It shall be unlawful for any person to start or maintain an open fire anywhere outof-doors within this District except that this shall not apply to a Fire Officer of the District setting a fire for training purposes or for the abatement of a fire hazard. This section shall not apply to enclosed "barbecue" fires used for cooking purposes only provided such "barbecue" fires are not located within ten feet of any combustible material. All persons at or attending a camp fire shall be considered to be maintaining such fire whether or not they have started such fire.

(j) It shall be unlawful at any time for any person to park or place any vehicle or object within 9 feet of the center of any roadway, highway, easement or fire trail, or in such a manner as to obstruct the free passage of fire apparatus and equipment.

(k) It shall be unlawful at any time for any person to park or place any vehicle or object near or alongside the entrance to any structure or fire hydrant and or in front of any driveway so as to obstruct the free passage of fire equipment and firemen at any time, to such structure or hydrant.

(l) It shall be unlawful for any person to allow any tree, plant or shrub to grow or extend from their private property or property under their control in such a manner as to obstruct the free passage of fire apparatus or equipment over any roadway, highway, easement or fire trail, or to prevent free access of firemen and equipment to any structure and hydrant by reason of such growth or extension.

(m) It shall be unlawful for any person not a member of the Fire Department to drive or attempt to drive, or to ride or attempt to ride any fire apparatus except at the direction of a Fire Officer.

(n) It shall be unlawful for any person not authorized by the Department to enter the District Fire House while no members of the Fire Department are present.

(o) It shall be unlawful for any person not authorized by the Chief of the Department to have in his possession any badge, insignia or equipment belonging to the Department or representing him to belong to the Department and any person formerly a member of the Department and once authorized to have such badge, insignia or equipment but not currently a member of the Department, shall surrender same immediately upon demand of the Chief of the Department.

SECTION 7. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, is punishable by a fine of not less than $10.00 or more than $500.00, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(a) Any vehicle found in violation of Sec. 6(j) and (k) may after having been cited for violation of this Section be towed away to the nearest public garage having such facilities and such costs of towing shall be paid by the violator. Such charges shall constitute a lien against the vehicle and must be paid before the vehicle is released.

SECTION 8. Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as limiting or prohibiting the Department from assisting any other fire department within the County of Marin, upon request of proper authority of such department, or assisting upon request or proper authority any adjacent county or state fire control agency in accordance with mutual aid plans and law.

SECTION 9. All Ordinances and parts of ordinances heretofore enacted which are in conflict with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The Board hereby declares that is would have passed this Ordinance and each section, subsection, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SECTION 11. This Ordinance shall go into effect immediately upon its adoption for the reason that an emergency exists in that there is no Ordinance upon the subject in effect within the District at the present time. It shall be published at least once in newspaper of general circulation within the County of Marin, State of California prior to the expiration of 15 days after its passage.

The foregoing Ordinance was passed and adopted at a Special Meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District, County of Marin, State of California, on the 29th day of April, 1970 by the following vote, to-wit:

Ayes: Commissioners Lawrence, DeGhelder and Mikel

No. 53887

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin

ROBERT B. LACHINE plaintiff

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA to the above named Defendants:

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit state in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

FORMAL NOTICE OF SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of the MILL VALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT of the County of Marin, State of California, that in accordance with law, a bond election will be held on TUESDAY, the 2nd day of June, 1970, in said District, between the hours of 7:00 o'clock A.M. and 8:00 o'clock P.M., during which period and between which hours the polls shall remain open, at which election there will be submitted the following proposition:

Shall the Mill Valley School District incur a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $260,000.00, bearing interest at not to exceed 7% per annum payable annually the first year and semi-annually thereafter, for the purpose of raising money for the following purposes (which are hereby united and shall be voted upon as one single proposition) to-wit:

(1) The building or purchasing of school buildings.
(2) The making of alterations or additions to the school building or buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation, or repairs.
(3) The supplying of school buildings and grounds with furniture, equipment or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature.
(4) The permanent improvement of the school grounds.

If approved by the electors, this proposition will allow the District to replace $260,000.00 of unsold bonds having a maximum interest rate of 5%, which were authorized by the voters in June 1967, with bonds having a maximum interest rate of 7%, in order to facilitate sale of the bonds. The previously authorized but unsold bonds will not be sold if this proposition is approved.

All of the enumerated purposes shall be united and voted upon as one single issue.

Said bonds proposed to be issued and sold shall bear interest at a rate of not exceeding seven percent per annum, payable annually for the first year the bonds have to run, and semi-annually thereafter.

The number of years the whole or any part of the bonds are to run shall not exceed 25 years from the date of the bonds or the date of any series thereof.

The precincts, polling places, and election officers appointed to conduct the election shall be the same as those provided for the State Primary Election called for the same date. The precincts, polling places and election officers shall be the same as those specified in the notice of election officers and polling places for the State Primary Election.

Each qualified elector of said District shall be entitled to vote only in the School District election precinct of which he is a resident.

The election returns shall be canvassed by the appropriate County officials and at the time and place provided by law on and seventh day after the election.

Applications for absent voter ballots may be made to the County Clerk not more than twenty-nine nor less than seven days prior to the election, and such ballots shall be returned to the County Clerk.

The deadline for the receipt of absentee ballots is five o'clock P.M. on the day before the election.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
ARTHUR STREET — INDIAN VALLEY ROAD CONNECTION
PROJECT 67-008
CITY OF NOVATO
MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Finance Director, City of Novato, California, until 4:00 o'clock p.m., on Thursday, May 21, 1970, for the furnishing of all plant, labor, materials, tools, equipment and machinery necessary for the construction of Arthur Street — Indian Valley Road Connection Project 67-008.

The proposals will be publicly opened and read in the office of the Finance Director on the date and at the time mentioned above. Plans and specifications and proposal forms, may be obtained at the office of the City Engineer upon payment of a non-refundable printing and service charge in the amount of Eight Dollars ($8.00). Other fee documents available from the City which may be applicable to this project are as follows: Novato Standard Specifications - $3.00, Uniform Standard Drawings of all Cities and County of Marin - $1.00. All checks shall be made payable to the City of Novato, and should be mailed to the Public Works Department, City of Novato.

The work to be done includes, but is not necessarily limited to: clearing and grubbing, roadway grading and construction, drainage facilities, structural plate arch culvert, rock slope protection and all appurtenances necessary for the successful completion of the project as shown on the plans and specifications.

Notice is hereby given that on May 13, 1069, the City Council adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of wages applicable to the work to be done, which shall be the minimum rates paid on this project, a copy of which wage scale is attached hereto.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive any informality in a bid, and to make award as the interests of the City may require. This notice is given by order of the Council of the City of Novato, California.

No bid will be received unless it is made on proposal form furnished by the City Engineer. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond in the amount of ten percent (10%) of the estimated aggregate amount of the bid as a guarantee that the bidder, if the award is made to him in accordance with the terms of his proposal, will promptly execute a contract in the required form, secure payment of workmen's compensation insurance, and furnish a satisfactory faithful performance bond and a labor and material bond. Each of said bonds shall be in the sum of not less than one hundred percent (100%) of the estimated aggregate amount of the payments to be made under the contract, computed on the basis of the price stated in the proposal. In addition to the above, and if requested by the City, the bidder shall furnish a financial statement of recent date. Failure to comply with this requirement will render a bid informal and shall be sufficient cause for rejection.

The contractor shall complete the construction of the total project within sixty (60) working days, the first day of which shall be the date of the City Engineer's notice to proceed.

CITATION
No. 14780

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the City and County of San Francisco.

In the Matter of the Adoption Petition of FRED McELRAVY, Adopting Parent.

TO RICHARD KING SHAY, THE FATHER OF MARCUS AURELIUS SHAY AND ANTHONY ANDRE SHAY, AND TO ANY OTHER PERSON CLAIMING TO BE THE FATHER OF SAID CHILDREN:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that there has been filed in this Court a verified Petition for Adoption by Stepparent for the adoption of Marcus Aurelius Shay and Anthony Andre Shay and alleging that no consent to adoption by the father is necessary by reason of the fact that for a period of more than one year, to wit, since December, 1968, said father Richard King Shay has failed to pay for the care, support and education of the children when able to do so.

YOU ARE HEREBY CITED AND DIRECTED to appear before this Court on June 16, 1970 at 4:00 p.m. in Department One of the above-entitled Court, City Hall, 400 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why said petition for adoption should not be granted.

DATED, MAY 5, 1970

BY ORDER of said Superior Court, at the City & County of San Francisco

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Hepatitis Contracted By Most Of A Football Team

Last September, viral hepatitis clobbered 26 members of the varsity football team of the College of the Holy Cross (Worcester, Mass.). All developed weakness, fever, nausea, abdominal pain, dark urine, and a yellowish tint (jaundice) of the eyes and skin.

Liver function tests confirmed the diagnosis. Tests were also conducted on 65 other members of the team, including coaches and managers who had no jaundice or other symptoms.

FIFTY-NINE HAD POSITIVE liver tests. This is par for the course because many have a mild case of viral hepatitis. But they are capable of passing along the causative virus and do so unwittingly. Furthermore, they may be carriers for a year after hepatitis subsides.

AT HOLY CROSS, it was traced to drinking water coming from some outdoor T-faucets, possibly contaminated by children who used the fountain. Some of them had been ill and lived just 100 yards from the practice field.

In a few instances, hepatitis has been traced to shellfish living in polluted sea water. Oysters and clams act like filters and retain the causative viruses. They may be contaminated when eaten fresh and raw.

PHYSICIANS USUALLY recommend bed rest during the acute phase of hepatitis even though a single, well-controlled study showed it made no difference in recovery time. Complete bed rest, however, is thought to protest the individual from complications.

Many convalescing from hepatitis have a poor appetite and complain of nausea. They should be encouraged to eat foods that appeal to them.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

SMOKER'S TONGUE

W. B. writes: Is it necessary to be treated for leukoplakia or will the white spots disappear spontaneously? P.S. Since receiving this diagnosis, I have stopped smoking.

REPLY

Treatment is essential because 30 per cent of these lesions undergo malignant changes. When the white areas are not treated, the scaly area may thicken, crack and ulcerate. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this condition, which is also called smoker's tongue.

DOESN'T BELIEVE IN DOCTORS

D. O. writes: I haven't seen a doctor for years, as I think it's a lost cause. I have a severe case of flu and am taking the medicine prescribed a long time ago. What would you suggest that I do?

REPLY

You've had your money's worth. It may be futile to suggest that you consult a physician, but he could prescribe a newer medicine that would afford a better chance for rapid recovery.

AFTER KIDNEY REMOVAL

W. W. R. writes: Is there anything special one should do (or not do) after a kidney is removed?

REPLY

No, except to maintain good health by avoiding infections and exercising moderating in all things. If the kidney was removed because of stones, ask your physician about the proper diet which may discourage the formation of stones in the other kidney.

Today's Health Hint — Breating exercises are beneficial to the asthmatic.

TV REVIEW

Networks Keep Cool In Protest

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The three major television networks labored hard to keep the Washington peace protest in perspective, to permit the administration's activities to share the foreground. Through it all, the network voices remained compassionate and admirably low.

Programs were pre-empted liberally to cover the Saturday gathering. Because it was largely peaceful and because the young participants were largely good-humored and the speeches largely exhortations, live coverage tended to consist mostly of shots showing people milling around or participants explaining earnestly why they were there.

The special resumes and news programs were handled with judicial neutrality and careful balance. Some scenes of arrest and of disturbances were shown while it was explained they were scattered incidents. The greatest tension came during NBC's live coverage when Ron Nesson, a reporter on the fringes of the crowd at the Ellipse, was asking some young people why they were leaving. Most said they were just hunting for a drinking fountain, but one young participant protested angrily that his questions were giving the wrong impression about what was happening. He was joined by some others—but Nesson quickly terminated the segment without overt incident.

It was a tough, touchy and sprawling story to capture in pictures and commentary, but television turned in a good, disciplined job.

Local radio and television stations have been caught up recently in the ombudsman idea. A number of stations urge listeners to call in or write in about their problems. The station then tries to help them out. Complaints range from unmended potholes in streets to requests for police protection.

WCBS Radio in New York City invites listeners to write if they need help. Station muscle has resulted in straightening out a billing mix-up with a public utility, getting discharge papers from the Army for a veteran whose appeals had been ignored for months, and achieving a prompt repair of a heating system by a real estate developer who had ignored earlier complaints.

WNEW-TV in New York launched a program on Sunday called "solutions." The public was invited to appear and suggest ways in which problems could be solved. The first program concerned garbage and trash disposal. It suffered somewhat because the panel of experts had a tendency to talk instead of listen, but then, too, the suggestions by the volunteers, were pretty familiar.

Revocation of a use permit for Sutter Hills Development Co. to construct a supermarket and drug store at South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue will go before the Novato City Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

The council on Feb. 24 granted the permit for a Lucky Store. Thrifty Drug store and drive-in restaurant, despite opposition by the planning commission. In a second public hearing City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said Sutter Hills would have cause to try to recoup funds spent on the development if the permit were revoked. A representative of Sutter Hills said that the company would take all means, legal if necessary, to see that the use permit was not invalidated.

Two members of the planning commission then unseated two council members at the April 14 election, thus a majority of the council now opposes the permit.

At its April 28 meeting, the council voted the proposed development area as one of three that should be included in a freeze on commercial building. The other two were the Crossroads shopping center on Highway 101 South of Novato Boulevard and the San Marin East area on Highway 101 at San Marin Drive.

Auto Looted

Personal possessions valued at $55 were taken from the automobile of Harold A. Nichelini of 40 Miramar Avenue, San Rafael, while it was parked in front of his residence between 12:30 and 6:30 a.m. Friday, San Rafael police reported.

Eel River Bloc Opposes Waldie On Wild Rivers

The Eel River Water Council board has criticized a House resolution by Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, D-14th District, which proposes to include the Eel, Klamath and Trinity rivers in the national wild and scenic river system.

In a letter to Waldie, the board urged that action on the measure be deferred until several studies of the river basins are completed.

If the measure is enacted now, the letter said, "years of dedicated effort will have been wasted."

The letter was signed by William R. Seeger, president of the council's board. Seeger is general manager of the Marin Municipal Water District.

Scientists estimate deserts existed on earth over 200 million years ago, although today's deserts are believed to be only about five million years old.

Chrysler Corp. Recalls Autos For Brake Work

DETROIT (UPI) — A recall campaign of 20,485 Dodge Dart and Plymouth Valiant passenger cars for replacement of the brake master cylinder on cars equipped with standard drum brakes was announced Friday by Chrysler Corp.

A company spokesman said no accidents have been reported as a result of the possible defect. It was discovered during a quality audit which indicated that some primary cups in the front brake portion of the master cylinder may have been cut during manufacture.

The spokesman said this could lead to an internal leaking of brake fluid and a loss of front brake power.

Most drunk drivers just never know when to stop.

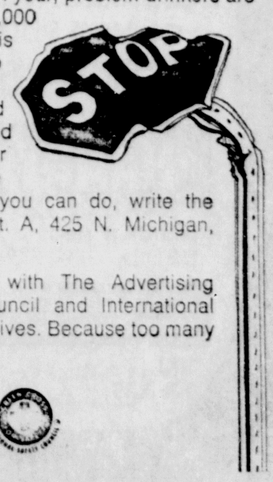
It's not hard to see how each year, problem drinkers are involved in killing at least 25,000 of us on our highways. What is hard to see is why we keep letting them.



Many problem drinkers need to be helped. But first, they need to be taken off the road. Sooner or later, it has to happen. Make it sooner. To find out what you can do, write the National Safety Council, Dept. A, 425 N. Michigan, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

12 Prep Track Records Fall

By DAVID EINSTEIN

San Rafael High School's ace sprinter Bob Peterson set a new record in the long jump after winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes easily Saturday in the Marin County Athletic League track and field championships at Mill Valley's Tamalpais High School.

Mark Jones of Terra Linda soared 14 feet, 1 inch in the pole vault to break the record of 13-6 he set the trials Tuesday. z

Peterson, who came within a tenth of a second of the record in the 100 with a 9.8, leaped 22-9 in the long jump to shatter the record of 22-7½ set in 1966 by Honor Jackson of Tamalpais.

Novato High's Ray Sparling, who won the shot put with an effort of 50 — 10, broke Craig Scott's 1967 record in the discus with a toss of 158-8. The old mark was 157-7½.

Tam's Gerald Robertson, who shattered the high jump record on Tuesday with a mark of 6-4, won yesterday at 6 even, and took the low hurdles in 20.9.

Two other records were broken in varsity events. Tom Estudillo of Redwood ran 1:58.4 to edge out San Marin's Chakra Chappell and clip the old mark of 1:58.8 set by Mike McCauley of Redwood in 1965. In the 440 relay San Rafael's team of Scott Duncan, Paul Crovo, Dennis Silva and of course Peterson set a new mark with a time of 43.2. Tamalpais held the record of 43.9 set in 1968.

McCovey Bombs Mets' Big Shift

Giants Vs. San Diego Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Gil Hodges of the New York Mets devised an alignment which is appropriately called "the McCovey shift." But the monstrous San Francisco slugger gave the Mets a case of the willies in overcoming the strategy.

In what started out like a home run contest—each club ripping three clouts over the fences in the first four innings —the Giants, with McCovey slamming two of them, including a grand slam, ripped the Mets 11-7 Sunday. The Giants open a three-game series in San Diego tonight.

JUAN'S FIRST

The six runs batted in by McCovey helped ace right-hander Juan Marichal ,making only his third start of the season because of an ear infection, gain his first victory of the year, although he was tagged for 10 hits, including the three homers.

McCovey, whose two homers gave him a total of nine this season, upped his RBI total to 31 on a lowly .221 batting average.

But McCovey insisted "they (pitchers) don't pitch to me. How can you hit and produce when they don't pitch to you? I think I get pitched to less with runners in scoring position than anybody in the history of the game."

TWO BLASTS

Sunday wasn't one of those days, however, as the 6-foot-4, 210-pounder teed off on a Nolan Ryan fastball in the third inning for a two-run homer over the right center field fence and then cracked his bases-full shot one inning later off reliever Tug McGraw to almost the same spot.

The fourth-inning blast capped a five-run Giants' burst, for a 9-6 edge, sewing up the victory for Marichal.

Ken Henderson also had a two-run homer for the Giants and Bobby Bonds drove in two runs with two singles and stole a pair of bases, his 14th of the year in 15 attempts.

NEARS RECORD

The grand slam, McCovey's second this season, gave the 1969 National League Most Valuable Player, a lifetime total of 12, tying him for the third spot on the list behind Mets' Manager Gil Hodges' NL record 14.

"I was throwing hard," Marichal said. "But I didn't know where the ball was going. If I have that stuff with control I'll be okay," said the 21-game winner of a year ago.

"If I can come back every fourth or fifth day I still think I have a shot at 20 wins this year."

A'S HARD WORKER

Rollie Fingers Always Ready

OAKLAND (AP) — Rollie Fingers of the Oakland A's is the kind of pitcher who has to be ready all the time.

In the last week he has pitched 20 innings — twice as a long relief man and once as a starter.

He took over for starter John Odom in the second inning Sunday and gave up only one earned run the rest of the way to defeat the Boston Red Sox 7-4.

ARM TROUBLE

"I knew I might get in the game early because Odom has beem having trouble with his arm," Fingers said.

"I got a little tired in the seventh inning because of all the pitching I've done this week. But there were some good plays by our fielders that got me out of trouble."

Fingers hopes that his excellent relief work will put him back in Oakland's starting rotation.

"It depends on Al Downing," Manager John McNamara said when asked if Fingers would start a game this week. Downing will attend the funeral of his father in Trenton, N. J., today and may not be able to take his regular turn Friday night against the California Angels.

"If Downing can't pitch, Fingers will," McNamara said.

The A's Chuck Dobson, 2-4, and Jim Hunter, 5-2, will pitch those games.

The A's put together their biggest inning of the season — six runs in the fourth — for the comeback victory over Boston. The big hit was a three-run homer by catcher Dave Duncan, his third homer in three games.

Buffalo Gets Garrett In Expansion Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Garrett, surprisingly left unprotected by the Los Angeles Lakers, was one of the first two picks by Buffalo in the National Basketball Association's expansion draft Monday.

Buffalo, which chose first on the opening round and third on the second, also selected Ray Scott of Baltimore, but the NBA refused to divulge the order of selection.

Portland, which picks second throughout the draft, chose Leroy Ellis of Baltimore and, in a minor surprise, Larry Siegfried of Boston.

Cleveland, which swapped order of picks with Buffalo, selected Luther Rackle of Cincinnati and Walt Wesley of Chicago.

Garrett had been expected to be one of the seven players protected by the Lakers. The rookie guard had been a starter for the Lakers, who lost to the New York Knicks in the championship series last week.

Long Wait Over For Boston Fans

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins drank champagne from the Stanley Cup as expected Sunday, but it took some late heroics by old pro John Bucyk and young superstar Bobby Orr to get the celebration going on schedule.

Trailing most of the way, the Bruins gained a tie on Bucyk's goal with less than seven minutes remaining in regulation time. Then just 40 seconds into the sudden death overtime period, Orr banged home the winning tally.

WIN IN FOUR

That did it. The Bruins had beaten the St. Louis Blues 4-3, sweeping their best-of-seven National Hockey League final playoff series and winning the coveted cup for the first time in 29 years.

Bedlam broke loose in Boston Garden as fans raced onto the ice. NHL President Clarence Campbell presented the cup to the winners, and Bucyk was given the honor of skating it around the rink to a deafening ovation.

"None of these guys have their names on that cup yet," coach Harry Sinden said when asked why this celebration was so wild. "They may get there again in the future, but the first time is always the best."

INTO SHOWER

"My greatest thrill ever," said one player after another—even such frequent individual award winners as Orr and Phil Esposito.

"I've waited 15 years for this," said Bucyk, the elder statesman of the team who celebrates his 35th birthday Tuesday. "And I wanted it for those fans. They've been waiting even longer. They deserve it."

For quite a while, it looked as though the Blues were going to spoil the party as they battled to avoid being swept out of the finals a third straight time.

BLUES LEAD

Boston's Rick Smith and St. Louis' Red Berenson traded first period goals, but Gary Sabourin put the Blues on top early in the second session and they held the 2-1 lead until Esposito scored at the 14:22 mark to knot the count again. It was Espo's 13th goal and 27th point of the playoffs—both records.

Larry Keenans' power play goal snapped the tie 19 seconds into the third period, and the later it got, the more defensive the Blues became as they tried to protect their lead. The Bruins kept on the attack, however, and Bucyk finally scored from in close to tie the game at 13:28.

Swimmers Qualify For Meet

Terra Linda High School's class B swimming team, placing qualifiers in all but one event, led a moderately impressive showing by the Marin County Athletic League in the North Coast Section Division II meet Saturday at Miramonte High School.

Novato's John Summerfield took second in diving and was the only MCAL contestant in the varsity competition to finish among the top six, who automatically qualify for the North Coast Section finals at Alameda High School this Saturday.

Marin teams placed eight swimmers and two relay teams in the top six in class B events. Overall the MCAL placed 30 swimmers and six relay teams among the 18 final qualifiers.

Cliff Tanaka of Tamalpais and Redwood's Paul Cane were double qualifiers. Tanaka took third in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle races, and Cane finished third in the 100 I.M. and fourth in the 100 breast.

Terra Linda's teams took second in the medley relay and third in the free relay.

From Obscurity To Winning Golf

HOUSTON (AP) — Gibby Gilbert was, for four days and 71 holes, lost in the shuffle. He was the other guy playing with Bruce Crampton and people in their sparse gallery kept saying, "Who's he?"

But Gilbert had a lifetime of obscurity behind him, was used to the feeling and followed his own formula to score his first professional golf tour victory:

"Just keep plugging."

He did, and the 29-year-old club pro from Hollywood, Fla., on the pro tour for just a couple of months, made up two strokes on the final hole, caught Bruce Crampston and then bear him on the third hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday in the $115,000 Houston Champions International Invitational tourney. (List of scores and money winnings on page 30.)

Gilbert, who decided to go on the tour only after playing the Doral tournament in Florida—he was the 36-hole leader there —was in third place most of the warm, muggy day, but finished with a 72-hole score of 282, two-under-par on the 7,166-yard Champions Golf club course. He had a final 70.

Crampton with a two-stroke lead over Bert Greene going into the last round, had a 73, also for 282. Greene, who knocked himself out of it with a double-bogey six when he hit into a creek on the 17th, had a 72 for 283.

Both he and Crampton drove the fairway, but Crampton put his second far to the left, chipped short and missed a 10-footer. Gilbert, plugging away, put his second on the green and two-putted for the ninth playoff this season.

They both parred the first two extra holes, but Bruce put his tee shot in the water. The rock-steady Gilbert played it in regulation for the $23,000 first prize.

He ran off a string of three consecutive birdies starting on the third hole, turned in three in three-under-par but faltered as his shattered, still-ailing 57-year-old legs began to tire on the back side. He finished with a 70 for 287.

Tam Netters Win Section Championship

Andy Moffat and Terry Moor of Tamalpais High School are the North Coast Section doubles tennis champions after ripping through four matches Saturday at California State, Hayward.

The top-seeded tandem from Mill Valley defeated Paul Sewald and Rocky Hull of San Leandro High in the finals, 7-5, 6-0. The two Tam champs are seniors.

Redwood High School's Bob Knight made it to the singles semifinals before losing to Mitch Finklestein of Menlo School, 7-5, 3-6, 4-6.

Petty Suffers Minor Injuries In Crash

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — "My feet hurt worse than anything else," Richard Petty complained Sunday as he walked in stockinged feet from a hospital to climax a hectic week in his auto racing career.

The 23-year-old driving star from Randleman, N.C., had spent the night in the McLeod Infirmary at Florence, S.C., the victim of a spectacular crash that marred Saturday's Rebel 400 stock car race at Darlington.

He was treated for a dislocated shoulder, a few minor cuts and bruises and, probably for injuries to his pride and bankroll. A doctor had told him it would be at least a month before he could race again.

But Petty was up at 8 a.m. to place a congratulatory phone call to his long-time buddy, David Pearson, who drove a Ford to victory in the $85,000 race and took home a check for $17,575.

Carefully avoiding pebbles and wet spots on the parking lot pavement, Petty pointed to his feet and said:

"They forgot to bring my boots, Can you imagine that? They let my boots and clothes go home in the truck, probably figuring I'd be here a long time. I'll tend to that bunch when I get home."

Petty's crew and most of the 42,000 spectators and millions who watched the race on nationwide television would have bet their last buck that the 200-pound, 6-foot-2 driver would be flat on his back for months.

Novato Wins Lacrosse Title

Novato Parks and Recreation Department team clinched the Northern California Lacrosse Association junior division championship yesterday by defeating San Francisco, 7-4, at Novato.

Bob Larson scored three goals to lead the undefeated Novatans to their fifth victory. Other scorers for Novato were Tim Kelley, Ron Budde and Paul Meaney.

In another junior division game Saturday, Church of the Latter Day Saints of Novato edged San Rafael, 7-5, at Novato.

LDS scorers were Marshall Roe with five and Dan Daly and Dan Colony with one each. San Rafael was led by John Morehouse's four goals and one by Steve Kendall.

Ashe Edges MacKay In The Final Round

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— Arthur Ashe won the men's singles crown Sunday at the Central California tennis championships at the Sutter Lawn Tennis Club, but not easily.

The Gum Springs, Va., star had to run the match out to 6-4, -62, 3-6, 10-8 before his mastery of Barry MacKay of Ross was established.

Ashe teamed with Bob Lutz of Los Angeles to take the mens doubles title from Jim MacManus of Berkeley and Jim Osborne of Honolulu, 5-7, 7-5, 6-3.

As expected, Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., triumphed over Denise Carter of Los Altos to take the women's singles, 10-8, 2-6, 6-3.

Important Game For Redwood '9'

Undefeated Redwood High School meets second place San Marin at Novato Wednesday in a crucial Marin County Athletic League baseball game.

For the Giants, it will be a chance to lock the door on the rest of the league. They lead San Marin by two full games with four games left to play.

The game will be a classic confrontation, with the two best pitchers in the league facing each other. Redwood's Roger Smith and San Marin's Dennis Bueler will both be putting perfect records of 6 wins and 0 losses on the line.

Redwood, which as a team is hitting better than .300, will depend on the heart of its order, second baseman Pete Cooney, outfielder Frank Pomilia and first baseman Tom Wickert, all of whom are hitting over .400. John Boro and Jerry Piro, who have three home runs apiece, supply additional long ball power.

The big guns for the Mustangs are league leading hitter Ken Gnoss and catcher Jack Burnam, Gnoss, a .550 hitter, has four homers and 15 runs batted in. Burnam has been flirting with .500 all year, and is second in the league in RBIs.

L.A. Stars Reach Finals

DENVER (AP) — Coach Bill Sharman takes his poised and talented Los Angeles Stars into the American Basketball Association playoffs against Indiana this week hoping to get the same performance from his club he got against Denver.

The Stars outran and outshot Denver to take a 109-107 victory Saturday to win the fourth game of the best-of-seven Western Division playoffs.

"We got most of the breaks in this series," Sharman said.

"It was a tough series. We made the key baskets, but it couud have gone either way. The loss of Julius Keye had to hurt Denver a great deal. With him in there it might have been another series," he added.

Keye was used sparingly because of an injury to his right knee, which will probably require surgery.

Los Angeles used a clutch shot by Merv Jackson in the final seconds of play to snatch the game away from Denver in the last game.

The Stars allowed Denver only one victory—an hysterical overtime victory in the opener—and then climbed on the Rockets for four straight decisions, the longest losing streak Denver suffered after Joe Belmont took over the coaching reins.

"Denver has nothing to be ashmed of," Sharmon said.

"The Rockets have had a sensational year. Belmont did a great job, and nobody had a rookie season like Spencer Haywood. . .nobody in the NBA or ABA. He's the greatest player at his age (21) ever."

Haywood hit for 37 points in the final, and George Stone led the Stars with 22.

Two Tiburon Girls In Tennis Victories

Bee Kilgore in girls 16 and Jennifer Gobershock in girls 14 both of Tiburon, advanced to quarter-finals of the Palo Alto Junior Open tennis championships Sunday.

Miss Kilgore defeated Karen Brink 6-2, 6-1, and Miss Gobershock defeated Valerie Mendoza 6-2, 6-3. Two other Tiburon girls lost, Leslie Airola in girls 16 and Laurie James in girls 14.

Bruin Fans Doing Some Celebrating

BOSTON (AP) — Eight police patrol wagons, six squad cars and 29 policemen were sent to the neighborhood of Boston Garden Sunday to quell the aftermath of the Boston Bruins' first Stanley Cup win in 29 years.

Hockey fans filled bars in the vicinity after the game and by 10 p.m. 30 men were in City Prison on charges of being drunk.

Stuntman Knivel In Hospital Again

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — Motorcycle stuntman Evel Knivel was hospitalized after he failed in an attempt to jump his cycle over 13 soft drink trucks.

Milestone For Hoyt: No. 1,000

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milestones are no more exciting than birthdays to 46-year-old Hoyt Wilhelm, but the Atlanta knuckleballer's 1,000th mound stand was a festive occasion . . . for the struggling St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals, beaten nine times in their previous 10 games, struck for four runs in the ninth inning Sunday to nip Atlanta 6-5, ending the Braves' winning streak at 11 and marring Wilhelm's landmark pitching appearance.

BIG BLOW

Jose Cardenal delivered the tying and winning runs with a bases-loaded single off Wilhelm, who had kept the Braves' skein alive Saturday night with a pressure-packed save in his 999th career effort.

In other National League action, San Francisco slugged the New York Mets 11-7; Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 7-0; Cincinnati edged the Chicago Cubs 7-6; Houston buried Pittsburgh 9-2 and San Diego shaded Montreal 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore swept a doubeheader from the Chicago White Sox 7-2 and 4-2; Cleveland upended Minnesota 5-4; the New York Yankees topped California 4-3; Kansas City tripped Detroit 9-7; Oakland beat Boston 7-4 and Milwaukee took a pair from Washington 6-5 and 7-6.

FIRST EVER

Wilhelm, who has won 138 games since breaking into the majors with the old New York Giants 18 years ago, became the first pitcher ever to work in 1,000 games in his 11th relief stint this season. He broke Cy Young's mark of 906 appearances two years ago and expects the next 1,000 "are going to be a lot easier."

Strikeout Record

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers struck out 18 men twice in nine-inning games for the major league record. He did it on Aug. 31, 1959, and April 24, 1962.

Al Unser Predicts Record In Indy 500 Time Trials

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., the U.S. Auto Club's No. 2 ranking driver last year in spite of missing three races with a broken leg, predicts an Indianapolis Motor Speedway record Saturday in opening time trials for the 54th 500-mile race May 30.

He should be the prime authority. He turned a practice lap Sunday in his Ford-powered Parnelli-Colt at 170.973 m.p.h., fastest at the old track this year.

The record for one lap around the 2½ mile oval is 171.953, set by Joe Leonard with a now-outlawed turbine engine in 1968, and 171.625 for a piston engine, set last year by A. J. Foyt Jr.

Unser said Sunday he thought the pole position, which goes to fast time on the first qualifying day, would be won at about 172.5 m.p.h.

Carty Among Players Left Off Stars List

NEW YORK (AP) — Rico Carty of the Atlanta Braves, who leads the National League in batting with a .421 average, was hoping today that a write-in campaign would put him in the starting line-up in the All-Star Game.

The selections announced by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn had the Chicago Cubs filling seven starting positions.

The public also will participate in the voting. Names of 48 players will appear on 26 million ballots which will be available to the public during June.

The 48 nominations were made by a poll of major league managers and player representatives. Write-in spaces will be available for fans desiring to nominate players not originally nominated.

First basemen—Richie Allen, St. Louis; Ernie Banks, Chicago; Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco; Lee May, Cincinnati; Willie McCovey; San Francisco; Wes Parker, Los Angeles.

Auction Market For Aircraft Is Planned

NEW YORK (UPI) — The growth of General Aviation has created a need for an auction market for used aircraft, and Jerome Silverman is starting one. Silverman is an auctioner of all sorts of property for some of the country's biggest banks.

Early this summer, Silverman will hold his first aircraft auction at the International Airport at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he has leased a nine-acre tract. He hopes the Fort Lauderdale International Aircraft Auction Center will be the first of a group of franchised centers around the country.

"It will be the first auction center for aircraft on a major airport, providing full financing facilities up to 75 per cent, for all the planes sold, full servicing facilities," he said.

Up to now, the aftermarket for used private and business aircraft has been a hit or miss thing. It's not a matter of price depreciation; aircraft hold their price value well for many years because of government regulations requiring they be kept in practically new condition year after year.

But dealers rarely are financially able to take a used plane in trade-in, and most general airplane sales are for cash or the customer must find his own bank financing, often a tedious matter.

Tow main factors have encouraged Silverman to go into the aircraft auction market. The General Aviation Manufacturing Industry, after remaining small and static for 30 years, has doubled in the past five years, both in the number of planes sold yearly and in the average value of new planes sold. The number of licensed pilots in the civilian population also has soared, making a huge reservoir of plane-less fliers who are potential customers.

Silverman believes that, once he has one or two auction centers in business, aircraft dealers will take used planes in trade-in and send them to him to sell just as auto dealers send used cars to be auctioned. He also expects to get used planes to sell from leasing companies, from banks that have repossessed them and from business firms and private fliers. He even hopes to get some fringe business from the airlines in the sale of smaller used airliners and cargo planes.

Although other essential services to customers will be available at the Ft. Lauderdale center, Silverman's main income will come from standard auction fees based on the prices of the planes sold.

"Our location at the airport will enable us to handle the largest planes used in general aviation and we can draw aircraft and customers from practically anywhere," he said.

Silverman, 39, is a New Yorker who intended to be a lawyer but got sidetracked into the business of selling property for banks. In the past dozen years he has auctioned off everything from household appliances to completely equipped factories and ocean-going vessels.

Market Continues Downward

Analysts said most investors apparently were waiting on the sidelines for progress reports on the U.S. military involvement in Cambodia and possible further developments on the campus scene.

Several hundred construction workers and longshoremen demonstrated in favor of President Nixon's Asian policies during the noon hour on Wall Street, but there was no violence.

Prices on the Big Board included Telex, off 2¾ to 16½; Allied Chemical, off ⅜ to 18⅝; Fairchild Camera, off 3⅛ to 36¾; Memorex, off 2¼ to 78½; Xerox, off 1¼ to 81½; and General Motors, up ⅛ to 67⅛.

On the American Stock Exchange, Milgo electronic was off 1 to 29; Saxon Industries, off 1⅜ to 44¾; Digital Equipment, off 1 to 76¾ and Asamera Oil, off⅝ to 10½.

COSMETIC FIRM EXPANSION — Holiday Magic Inc., San Rafael has commenced construction of this 8,000-square foot warehouse and laboratory at 49 Larkspur Street in an expansion of production facilities. Anchor Development Co. is the general contractor. Completion is planned for July 1.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Expansion Of Holiday Magic Is Announced—Ground Is Broken

An expansion of Holiday Magic, Inc. facilities in San Rafael is being planned with the ground breaking of a new 8,000-square foot building at 49 Larkspur Street, near Kerner Boulevard.

Anchor Development Co. is the general contractor. Ground floor construction will be of tilt-up concrete for a warehouse. A second level of wood frame and stucco will house an office and laboratory. Below this will be a parking area. Occupancy is scheduled for around July 1.

Vice president Peter K. Woodward of San Rafael, who heads quality control and product development, will be in charge of the expanded laboratory.

ON JUNE 1, there will be a change of name by Balboa Marinas Yacht Sales, which opened last summer on Harbor Drive, Sausalito, to Ammerine Yacht Sales.

The inference from this may seem to be that a pattern is being set by American Marine, Ltd. to set up factory-operated dealerships for its Grand Banks and Alaskan diesel cruisers and Admiralty motor sailers (which have been handled by Balboa), after the fashion of Owens-Concordia and some of the other boat builders.

But manager William Fox in Sausalito says this is not the case, as there are a number of dealerships which will remain undisturbed. In Sausalito there will be no operational changes other than the name. Ammerine will continue selling the same boats, with the same staff.

RICHARD L. KEHNE of Belvedere has been elected a director of Birr, Wilson and Co. He is manager of the institutional and trading departments and a member of the executive committee of this investment securities firm.

Kehne Roberts

ROGER E. ROBERTS, a new resident of Mill Valley, has been appointed assistant vice president at Bank of America's San Francisco headquarters, serving in the international and trade services section. For the past three years he has been a loan officer with the Export-Import Bank of the United States in Washington, D.C.

NICE JOE: Credit for all the design — interior appointments from floor to ceiling and also the outside — at the newly opened store, The Kitchen at 1016 C Street, San Rafael, goes to Tom Sheffield of San Anselmo.

RICHARD D. KOUGH of Mill Valley has been promoted to assistant operations officer at Wells Fargo Bank's 725 Irving Street office in San Francisco, where he has been since 1969. He joined the bank in 1967.

Kough Rupp

REAL ESTATE: Melvin J. Rupp of Novato has joined Argus Real Estate in that city. He was previously with Land Investors Research, Larkspur and was executive director of the Marin Property Owners Association for three years. . .

Abrams Realty in Corte Madera is expanding its quarters with an extra 1,000 square feet at 23 First Street. April sales totaled $703,000 and the company plans adding four or five more salesmes to the staff. . .

Dreyer-Wilson and Co., San Rafael has incorporated. New name is Dreyer-Wilson, Inc. George R. Dreyer is president; Eugene N. Wilson is secretary-treasurer and Col. David E. Brooks, Retd. is a director. Sales associates are Eddie Silverman and Albert Grimm. The corporation will continue in home and land sales, apartment sales, management and real estate loans and development.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Keep Condec For Recovery Period

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. — We have shares of Condec Corp. purchased at $45 a share. These have now slid to below $15. Do you see any prospect of recovery? — F.B.

A. — In spite of the depressed trading level of these shares, prospects for the long term appear encouraging. First-half results through January, which were off sharply — 24 cents a share versus 67 cents in the fiscal 1969 period — reflected a 7-week strike at one division. In fiscal 1969 about 65 per cent of sales went to the government; recent acquisitions will reduce this rate substantially to under 40 per cent.

Contributing to a higher level of sales in the next few years will be a $132 million government contract for a multipurpose "Gama Goat" vehicle. Condec's participation in the field of industrial robots through partly owned Unimation has promise. General Motors has taken delivery on 64 of these robots. Production is sold out eight months ahead but plant capacity should be expanded to a rate of 40 machines a month by August to generate $10 million in annual volume.

Other area of activity include thermionics, valves, stainless steel tubing, machinery for making tires, and so on. Management looks for a strong second half but this may be tempered by a continuing sluggish economic climate. Shares are worth retention for their long-range potential.

Q. — Will you please explain how the Dow Jones Industrial average is figured? When the Dow is quoted as down 12 the figures just don't add up. — J.H.

A.—The price of the 30 stocks that make up the Dow Industrial average are added and this total is divided by 1.894. The divisor, however, changes from time to time to reflect splits, stock dividends or mergers in stocks that compose the average. Over the years these adjustments have eroded the divisor so that today a 12-point drop in the Dow will occur if the total price of the 30 stocks declines about $23, or around 75 cents per individual issue.

Better Drilling

To Build Plant

PARIS (UPI) — IBM France intends to build a new electronic components plant near Bordeaux. The company announced negotiations with the French government for 250 acres and said the site was chosen to cooperate with the government's efforts at industry decentralization.

To Borrow Money

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI)—Newmont Mining Co. says it intends to borrow about $100 million this year for itself and its subsidiaries.

ABBEY CARPET
GRAND OPENING SALE!

COME SEE WHY ABBEY CARPETS MORE HOMES THAN ANYONE!

We're already the largest carpet chain in the West—and still growing. Now SAN ANSELMO makes it 23 stores. And the bigger we get, the more money we can save you.

For this big grand opening sale, we've pulled out all the stops. We bought over 800 rolls of carpet from four major mills. Three railroad cars filled with luxurious new carpet from Georgia, South Carolina, and Montana. All exclusively for Abbey.

We managed to price many of these carpets at less than we'd normally pay for them ourselves! They're all perfect quality, of course. Abbey never sells seconds! So come take your pick and save. The picking's never been better. And besides, you might win the houseful of free carpet we're giving away. Someone in Marin will win it—why not you?
